Do You Remember BY J. P. PERRY

When there was a saw mill by the river on the lot where the Town Office Building is now being erected?

When the Hertford Peanut Cleaning Plant was located on the site where Mrs. Frank Ainsley's home now stands?

When there was a mattress factory near the river, back of Mrs. Ainsley's home?

When the Eastern Oil Company was organized and Mr. Stewart was manager?

When there was no electric light plant, and when no ice was manufactured in Hertford?

When the Fleetwood & Jackson Lumber Company was a thriving business in Hertford?

When the "undertaker" business was carried on in an old building where Keith's Grocery is now located?

When Riddick Chappell ran a store at "The Red Oak Corner" where Cannon's Cleaners' building now stands?

When R. L. Skinner kept a store on the corner where Sullivan's Drug Store now stands?

When R. L. Skinner ran a bakery

on the site where the Hertford Banking Company Building now stands?

AT THE BRIDAL SHOWER...

Women say they save more at Colonial

Gifts, blessings, and good advice—all are showered upon the new bride. Her eyes open with interest as she takes a look over the many fine home-makers say about the fun, the friendliness, the satisfaction of shopping Colonial Stores. "But most important," they sum up, "is that you'll save money on your total weekly food bills at Colonial." Bent on being as smart as possible, as well as a money-manager as her experience shows, the young bride decides right then and there she'll give her brand new budget a break by shopping Colonial from the very first.
