Do You Remember?

BY J. P. PERRY

When Grover Cleveland was inaugurated President of these United States? And what a distinction it was then to go to Washington and see the President take the oath of office? I remember when Mr. Pearce went and he wanted Mr. Cleveland to know he was from N. C.—and when the "hand-shaking" part of the program was taking place, Mr. Pearce shook the President's hand and said "tar sticks" and Mr. Cleveland laughed—for the first time in history, the people of the U. S. and the world have witnessed the inauguration of our President without having to go to Washington—People by the millions have listened and seen a great show put on by the people of our country. We heard and saw our President take the oath of office, we heard him make his introductory remarks, we heard him pray for Divine Guidance, for himself, for this country of ours, and for the world. And then you heard his wonderful speech, dramatically delivered—as you might expect from a "five star" general. We believe we have a great President of a great people, of a great country—as Jonathan said to David, "My prayers go with thee."—Dwight David Eisenhower, the 24th President of the United States.
