

Church School Rally Day Set For Sunday

Church School Rally Day will be observed in most of the seven hundred sixty-two Methodist Church Schools in the North Carolina Conference on Sunday, September 27, according to Rev. C. P. Morris, of Durham, Executive Secretary of the Conference Board of Education. Located in the eastern section of North Carolina, these church schools have a combined membership of 120,491. A record attendance is expected on this day which will open Christian Education Week. Special programs will be presented on the theme "Take a Look" and will emphasize the importance of Christian Education.

This is an annual observance authorized by the General Conference of the Methodist Church and sponsored by the General and Annual Conference Boards of Education. This year the youth phase of the program of Christian education is being lifted up for special attention. This is in keeping with the action of the 1952 General Conference which called all Methodist churches to "place a special emphasis during the quadrennium 1952-56 upon developing, improving, and extending its youth program and upon reaching increased members of youth for the Christian Church life and membership in the church."

The purpose of Church School Rally Day, according to the Rev. Mr. Morris, is to inform and challenge the people with regard to the Methodist program of Christian education and to receive an offering for the Conference Board of Education. A goal of $10,000.00 has been set for this offering in the North Carolina Conference. It will be used for leadership training purposes. Each local church is being asked to contribute an amount equal to one per cent of the pastor's salary as a minimum. The entire church constituency is being urged to attend Sunday School and Church on this day.

Paul gently reminds him of it when he suggests that Phileasa "reopen my heart in Christ." Paul writes this letter to his friend in all confidence that his friend will respond to his request in the spirit in which the letter is written.

"Evangeline Booth once said of her sainted father that he seemed to have a new sort of eyes, different from those in any man she had ever known. He had eyes, she declared, that enabled him to see a possible loveliness even in the worst bums and thieves and harlots in London; and because he had eyes like that, he was able to lift up thousands out of iniquity."
