

National Business Women's Week Observed Oct. 10-16

National Business Women's Week will be observed throughout the Nation for the twenty-seventh year beginning on October 10, and ending October 16. The organization of The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., is contributing much toward the development of business and industry, and emphasizing "Get-Out-The-Vote" in this Congressional Election Year. The Perquimans Business and Professional Women's Club, as an affiliate of The National Federation, is likewise contributing much toward the improvement and progress of business, industry, and civic means in our community.

The theme for the year is "Adventure In Achievement." The N. C. State Federation's Slogan is "The Three A's in Achievement - Able, Alert, Active." Able to make better business and professional women of ourselves; alert our needs and problems to our changing times; and active to carry out our ideals of the Federation. The Perquimans BFW Club will begin the week by attending Sunday morning services in a body at the Hertford Baptist Church. A window display has been planned for one of the stores on Church Street. Final plans were completed Thursday night at its business meeting when Mrs. Viola D. Nachman was hostess at her home.

The local club's various committees plan active programs throughout the year coordinating the Federation's slogan as follows: Alert—National Security, Public Affairs and International Relations; Able—Health and Safety, and Education and Vocations; Active—Legislation, Membership, Finance, News Service, Radio and Television.

The goal for the National Security Committee (Civil Defense) with Mrs. Betty T. Swindell, chairman, is to find a place to work with the people of the county with the Ground Observer Corps (Guard Our Country). The Local Loan Closet is available, but needs replenishing. Contact the chairman, Mrs. Roxanna C. Jackson. Any contributions will be greatly appreciated.

Fate Of Amendments Rest With Voters On November 2nd

North Carolinians will vote November 2 on five proposed amendments to the State Constitution.

The first one would authorize the General Assembly to provide for recalling retired supreme court justices to fill temporary vacancies caused by illness or other emergencies.

The second would authorize the General Assembly to create a board of paroles and confer upon it the authority to grant, revoke and terminate paroles which it now exercises by the Governor.

The third would limit to one, the number of State Senators from any one county.

The fourth would reduce from four months to 30 days, the time a voter must reside in a precinct before becoming eligible to vote.

The fifth would permit the Governor, in filling a vacancy in the executive or judicial departments, to appoint a person to serve the balance of the unexpired term if that term is to expire on the first day of January after the next general election.

Under existing statutes retired supreme court justices become emergency superior court justices and may be called on to hold terms of superior court. There is no existing authority to recall them for duty on the supreme court.

The amendment creating a parole board would terminate the Governor's power of granting, terminating and revoking paroles after July 1, 1955.

Under present laws, it is permissible for one county to have two or more senators. The effect of the proposed amendment would be to prevent any one county from having more than one senator in the General Assembly at any given time, whether the county alone composes a senatorial district or whether it is combined with other counties in such a district.

In making appointments according to existing statutes, the governor's appointee to fill a vacancy can hold office under the appointment only until the next regular election. At this next regular election, any person seeking the office in question must run for election for the period of time between the election and the end of the term to which the person vacating the office was originally elected, and must also run for a regular term to commence at the end of that short term.
