

Advice Given GI's Who Buy Homes

Five points of advice were offered by the Veterans Administration to veterans who feel the spring urge to buy their dream home under the GI loan program, as follows:

1. Make sure your home is near enough to transportation, schools and shopping to suit the needs of you and your family.
2. Be sure your income is large enough to pay all costs of home ownership, including local principal and interest, taxes and insurance, utilities, and maintenance, and anything you are buying on installments.
3. Make certain your interests in such matters as deposits, purchase agreements, and sales contracts are fully protected before you make a deposit or sign any document.
4. Be sure you understand the important legal documents you have to sign when you make "final settlement" or "close the loan."
5. And remember, a GI loan must be repaid! GI loans offer you many advantages, but like any other debt, they must be paid back on schedule.

Details of this bit of advice and many other helpful hints for veterans thinking about buying a home with the aid of a GI loan are contained in the 30-page VA pamphlet, "To the Home-Buying Veteran," available at any VA office.
