

News Report From Washington

Turnabout By Chou—Propaganda Or Peace—Behind Stock Margin Hike

Washington — The sensational turnabout by Chou En-lai at Bandung, and his offer to negotiate with the United States rather than "forcibly liberate" Formosa and the offshore islands, is rated in Washington as the major event of recent months.

Some credit the change of approach by the Chinese Premier to Soviet Russia, saying the Russians warned Peiping as long as two weeks ago that the Soviet Union did not desire to be drawn into a major war with the United States over the Formosa question.

This is the theory accepted by many because it is well known that Russia is presently having troubles of her own in Eastern Europe and even in the homeland itself. The new government of President Bulganin is not yet established well enough to embark on a third world conflict.

To the Chinese a war with the United States, in which Russia would not participate and against which Russia advised, would be a disastrous war. The Reds certainly can't get to the U. S. mainland and they cannot invade this country.

The only thing they could accomplish would be to win victories off the Chinese coast, perhaps capture some islands. And the victories in the air, and on sea, would probably go to the United States and the Nationalists—not the Chinese Reds.

Meanwhile all shipping along the coast of China would be blockaded by the U. S. and air strikes with atom weapons would probably be made on the Reds' Chinese military bases. Without Russian participation, which included the supply of atom weapons for the Chinese, such a war would be distasteful, which included the supply of atom weapons for the Chinese, such a war would be disastrous.

Chou, therefore, is much influenced by the word from Moscow and he apparently has been braked to a slower and less bombastic pace by Kremlin leaders who want no part of a major war just as a Big Four meeting appears imminent in June or thereabouts.

The Big Four meeting, by the way, would involve the foreign ministers of Britain, France and Russia and the U. S. Secretary of State, and might pave the way for a meeting "at the summit," if significant progress is achieved.

The government of President Bulganin continues to please Washington—in a relative sort of way, when it is compared to Stalinism. The Russians were known to be playing on German sentiment with their offer of Austrian independence, but the motivation for their willingness to negotiate with the three Allies might be a more encouraging one.

There is some hope that the Reds will actually be willing to ease tension in Europe now, that their efforts to capture several major western nations by subversion and propaganda have obviously failed.

These nations, including France and Italy, were saved by U. S. aid and the resulting good times that have developed in the last two years, and by the western military alliance, of course. For the first time in ten years, they now appear to be so solidly democratic that there is no chance for a Communist government to take over any time in the immediate future.

The Russians, therefore, find themselves with troubles in occupied eastern countries, including economic troubles, when the western countries are enjoying the highest level of prosperity since the end of World War II. It could be that the Kremlin leaders need time to get their new government in the saddle and straighten out the troubles which plague them in the occupied countries.

Negotiations will soon show, most probably, whether the Soviets are actually desirous of easing east-west tensions or whether they are merely playing for a few months another propaganda game which will blow up with the Reds charging the United States with having wrecked chances for an understanding in Europe.

Behind the government's move to raise the stock margin requirements to seventy per cent is a real fear that the market should not continue its present pace of advance. Many officials in Washington fear another boom and bust cycle like the one of 1929 and 1930.

brake a booming market which has shown no signs of a slow-down in recent months despite several warnings by economists.

Next Cancer Clinic Friday Afternoon

The Northeastern Cancer clinic will be held on Friday, May 6, in Elizabeth City, N. C., at the Health Center with registration beginning at 1:00. A free chest X-ray will be given to anyone wishing it along with the examination of the five areas of the body where cancer is most easily found and cured. There are no limitations as to sex, race, physical, or economic status at the center. However, there are age requirements. Women should be 35 or more; men should be 40 or over unless referred by a doctor, or unless one of the "Seven Danger Signals" or "Symptoms" are present. No priority is necessary, however only 30 people can be seen at the center each month due to limited facilities, so it is suggested that anyone who wishes to be assured of an appointment should drop a card to the Cancer Center, Elizabeth City and be sure of being seen. Examinees are asked to bring a robe or housecoat with them.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The young king Joash, who had been carefully reared by his aunt and the priest, was beloved by his people. The first of his recorded acts was his decision to repair the Temple, which had been terribly neglected during the days of Athaliah's influence. Joash decided to finance the undertaking by reviving a tax law given through Moses when the Israelites were encamped in the wilderness. The ransom or atonement tax was originally to be used for the tabernacle service but this tax law, along with other commands of God, had long been disregarded. Joash decided to revive it as a means of financing the needed repairs on the house of the Lord. When the priests and Levites did not promptly respond to the use of the tax which had been set aside for the repairs, the king issued a new command. A chest was to be placed at the entrance gate of the Temple, and a proclamation was made for the Israelites to bring their tax money as a gift to the Lord for his house. The response was so generous that the Temple guards had to carry the chests to the king's house for the money to be emptied every day. There was money enough after the building was repaired to replace the incense dishes and the silver and gold vessels that had been taken by Athaliah's followers. And, the record declares, the people rejoiced in the privilege of giving. Generous giving produces generous Christian living. So it has always been and will continue to be. When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, loss of sex and energy, headaches and dizziness. Don't suffer longer with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While often otherwise caused, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!
