SOCIETY MEETS
The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Berea Church of Christ held its regular meeting Friday night, July 19, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Hurdle.

The president, Mrs. Whit Cartwright, called the meeting to order by singing the theme song, "Lord Lay Some Sins Upon My Heart," after which Mr. Puckett presided.

Mrs. John Hurdle gave the devotional, reading the 18th Psalm. The minutes of the last meeting were read; roll was called with 14 members present.

Mr. Puckett taught a very interesting lesson from the 6th chapter of I Corinthians. The closing hymn was "Jesus Saves," followed by Mrs. Horace Miller dismissing the group with prayer. The hostess served delicious refreshments.

Shame!

"You complain that you have had to support your wife's family?" the court questioned the man seeking a divorce.
"Yes, your honor."
"How much of a family has she?"
"Four children, your honor."
"Who is their father?"
"I am, your honor."

KNOW YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

P. E. Battendorf, representative of the Social Security Administration, is in Hertford the second Wednesday of each month at the Perquimans County Court House.

It is of importance to all working men and women in the United States to know what social security insurance benefits they can count on when they retire. This article is directed primarily toward those workers who are 65 (62 for women) and have or soon will cut down on the amount of work they are doing, or retire completely from the working force. However, present day planning always promotes future prosperity. All of us should consider the following facts:

A. The social security earnings test applies generally to those who have not substantially retired.

B. A person receiving social security benefits may earn up to $1200 a year and still receive payments for every month in the year.

C. If a person over retirement age is not earning over $2080 per year, he should apply for payments immediately in order not to lose benefits.

D. A person may receive social security payments for any month in which he doesn't work for wages of more than $80 or perform substantial services in his business—even if he earns over $1200 during the year.

The foregoing should give you a general idea of the conditions under which benefits may be paid to people who are still working.

More specifically, the social security law provides that if you earn over $1200 during a year before age 72 you will lose one month's check for each $80 (or fraction thereof) of earnings over $1200 in the year. To illustrate, you could earn up to $1280 and you would receive all your checks for the year but one. You may earn up to $1360 and only two checks would be withheld, and so on. But remember, no matter how much a person earns in a year, he can get the monthly payment for any month in which he earned no wages, or wages of less than $80, or does not render substantial services in self-employment.

One point needs emphasizing, since it is frequently misunderstood. The earnings test is an annual earnings test. This simply means that all your earnings for the calendar year must be considered in applying the test. The reason for an earnings test is obvious—social security is intended as a partial replacement of last earnings. It provides some assured income to people when they need it most. Those who continue to perform their regular work generally have not lost any earnings.

The depth of one's conviction measures the breadth of his influence. —J. H. Leigh, Hunt.

NORTH CAROLINA

FACES A CHALLENGING FUTURE

And one of our areas undergoing dramatic development is the some 400 miles of the North Carolina coast—nearly all of which is bordered with sandy beaches. Improved highways and bridges continue to bring these areas closer to the many thousands to whom a beach vacation is a "must" every year. You can take your choice of whether it's fishing, bathing, swimming, boating; lively or quiet—you name it—North Carolina has it.

Typical, too, of the entire beach areas is the native hospitality afforded all visitors, as evidenced by the "legal control" system of the sale of beer and ale that is obviously working in the best interests of all concerned.
