Farmers' Day Plans Cancelled For '58

Farmers' Day, an annual event held in Perquimans County for the past several years, has been cancelled for 1958, it was announced here this week following a meeting of a group of farm men and women and agriculture workers.

A survey, conducted prior to the meeting, to determine interest in the event and to learn the desires of cooperating merchants, revealed facts which led to cancellation of the program for this year.

Most merchants who had participated in the program in the past, offered financial aid for the event again this year but in several cases the merchants felt they would be unable to participate with a booth as in the past. After considering all phases of the situation the committee decided to forego the Farmers' Day event for this year but expressed hope that it can be revived next year. The committee expressed its appreciation to local merchants for past assistance with this program and offer of aid for future Farmers' Day programs and this plan will be taken up at a later date.

School Lunchroom Program Received $9,438 In USDA Aid

Operating a lunchroom program in Perquimans County schools is an extensive project according to figures released this week by J. T. Biggers, school superintendent.

During the 1957-58 school term a total of 223,002 lunches were served in the five county schools. Total operating income amounted to $66,368. Of this amount students paid $45,760 for lunches purchased at a price of 20 cents in all schools excepting Perquimans High School where the cost was 25 cents.

The National School Lunchroom program supplies $11,170 of the total amount and the schools received from the U. S. Department of Agriculture commodities valued at wholesale of $9,438.

During the previous year Perquimans County schools received commodities valued at $17,717, according to figures released by the U.S.D.A. However, last year the provisions for commodities were reduced. Mr. Biggers reported during the coming year the commodities supply is expected to be stepped up thus increasing the aid received from this source.

Allocation of the commodities are made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on a school population basis as a means in providing a well-balanced lunch for school children.

CD Survival Plan Outlined To County Officials Tuesday

Town and county officials and members of the Perquimans Civil Defense Agency were briefed on problems which will confront local authorities in case an enemy should mount an attack against the nation.

Col. John A. Crawford and Frank Culvern of the State Civil Defense staff came to Hertford Tuesday night for the purpose of outlining the State Survival Plan and aid local Civil Defense officials to perfect plans for incorporating the county's plan into the state operations.

Chief problem facing Perquimans County, should an attack come, according to Mr. Culvern, will be one of evacuation. Perquimans County, because of the location of the Harvey Point Naval Air Station, has been designated by the state staff as a target area although no one can be certain just what targets an enemy might select.

Moving evacuees from target areas is an important task, since events past has shown military movements can be hindered by actions of evacuees. Mr. Culvern pointed out it will be the responsibility of local governments to look after the survival of the local population, but the federal government will pay for food, clothing and shelter for evacuees in case an attack should come.

Expressing the strong hope that no emergency of the kind would ever present itself, Mr. Culvern declared we must be prepared for any eventuality, explaining that plans on a nation-wide scale have been worked out to help handle the problem. He said that Civil Defense is ready to cooperate with county defense organizations, to distribute on a share basis needed equipment.

Vandals Cause $50 Worth Of Damage At GOP Tower Here

Vandalism has struck the Perquimans County Ground Observer Post tower, located near the health center. It is not the mark of Zorro, either. Glass windows have been shot out with BB guns, rocks and clods of dirt have been thrown through the windows, the door torn off the hinges, the log book destroyed, canvas sides have been cut, and parts from the Air Force electronic plane detection equipment have been removed.

The door has now been repaired and padlocked and a sign posted warning unauthorized persons to stay off the observation tower. It will now take around $50.00 to replace the glass and other equipment destroyed by the vandals.

The post was constructed by citizens giving their time and energy and donations from individuals, civic clubs, the Town of Hertford and Perquimans County.

The people living in the vicinity of the tower are requested to participate in keeping unauthorized persons off the tower. People found on or near the tower with BB guns will be turned over to juvenile authorities. Government authorities have begun an investigation in connection with the missing sound detection equipment. This post is a part of the Civil Defense program in the community, and when in operation plays a vital part in the aircraft defense of the country.

THIS WEEK'S HEADLINES

The U. S. accepted a Russian proposal on Wednesday for a special session of the United Nations Assembly to discuss the Mid East crisis. If carried out, this arrangement may cancel out a summit meeting of the government leaders. Meanwhile, the situation in the Middle East remains tense. Iraq, where trouble started, apparently is almost normal, the government having been recognized by many nations. Lebanon has selected a new president but Jordan remains as a trouble spot.

British and American forces remain in Jordan and Lebanon but reports say U. S. forces may be withdrawn soon although the British troops are likely to remain on in Jordan due to the threat to the Jordanian government and its king.

Federal courts this week heard additional school integration cases. In St. Louis, Mo., a district court took under advisement the appealed case dealing with postponement of integration of the Little Rock, Arkansas, Central High School, while a district judge in Virginia ruled the schools of Prince Edward County, Virginia, may postpone the action for a period of seven years, subject to review during that period of time. The Virginia ruling is expected to be appealed to higher courts.

Congress, hoping to adjourn sometime within the next two weeks, is working rapidly to process the remaining important legislation now pending before it. Many of the members face election opposition and are anxious to get home to start campaigning. Washington reports state most of the important work has been completed but final adoption of some money bills remain to be approved.
