The meeting was called to order by the vice president, Bryan Miller. Edward Winslow gave the devotional. ### LIBRARY NEWS

The Perquimans County Library, following its policy of acquiring all possible books and written material dealing with North Carolina, has this week received volumes I and II of Bill Sharpe's New Geography of North Carolina. These first two volumes include descriptions of 46 counties (Perquimans will be written up in a later volume). These cover not only geographic features, industrial, agricultural and cultural but are studied with legends and anecdotes in the style of State Magazine. Altogether this makes interesting reading and a valuable reference work. Other new books in the library are: The Travels of Marco Polo, illustrated, and two novels, The Visitors by McInnes and a teenage story, The Newcomer, by Davis. The library has also received as a gift from Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dozier a year's membership in the American Camellia Society. This entitles the library to the American Camellia Yearbook and four issues of the American Camellia Quarterly.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

commands of Christ for our generation unless we take the most difficult issues of the day into the courts of the Lord? Christians have a fundamental moral duty to share their differences. As we share our differences we gradually come to an understanding of what Christ's authority is over our lives. In every critical area of human relations we are under the authority of Christ, and what has not been heard by one generation may be heard by the next. Thus the authority of Christ is a growing authority and his right to command is an ever-renewing right.

HOG SALE JANUARY 30
Clarence Chappell, Jr., of Belvidere will hold his annual purebred sale on his farm on January 30. This sale will start at 1:00 P. M., and the auctioneer will be Col. Carman Y. Potter of Jacksonville, Illinois.

This is the third sale Clarence has held and he is offering this year the largest number of animals that he has yet to offer in this sale. There will be for sale some 55 bred gilts and 10 or 12 boars. Many of these gilts are off of the National Reserve Chamber that Clarence purchased at the Duroc Congress. This is a sale that many people have participated in during recent years and have found that the quality offered is as good as is found in most any breed sale. The animals to be sold may be seen at the farm anytime prior to the sale.

menting us upon the presentation of the historic data, of this, one of the oldest counties in the state. We wish to thank those who seem to appreciate our efforts to present the past and present of this area and we hope it will advertise this forgotten section of the state.

We should like for every head of families in the county, both colored and white, to come forward and get one of these booklets. The Perquimans County Library is cooperating with us 100 per cent and we have this week donated to the public libraries of the State of North Carolina 107 copies of our booklet which should give us the publicity we need.

In conclusion I must thank the women (God bless them) for their cooperation. Many have purchased from one to six copies and one good woman purchased 10 copies to give to friends away from here and sold 12 other copies. I am requesting and asking for the cooperation of every head of family, both colored and white, and all others who work and reside here to get a copy before they are all sold. Call at the town office or at my home, 214 North Front Street for your copy. $2.00 delivered in person or postpaid $2.50.
