

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS

Washington — The McClellan Committee on which I serve heard testimony of corruption under the guise of unionism last week. We investigated the payments of extortion money from several business firms to secure so-called "labor peace" in the New York City area.

Extortion Racket
I was sorry to learn that some of the leading newspapers had submitted to the payment of extortion as revealed by the testimony of their officials before our committee. In order to get their papers delivered they had made these payments indirectly to the worst element of hoodlums and gangsters who had muscled into the unions in order to practice this lucrative extortion racket. To the credit of the newspapers that were involved in this practice it must be said that they told the committee as a result of our hearings on the matter that this sort of avaricious racket would not be tolerated now. It is indeed a sad time in our country when this crooked practice reaches into the newspapers whose officials apparently felt that it was necessary to try to buy protection from gangsters. As one newspaper official testified, it is the type of practice that his publication would be quick to condemn editorially. This is further evidence that Congress must pass anti-racketeering legislation this session such as is included in the Kennedy-Ervin Labor Reform Bill which passed the Senate by a vote of 90 to 1.

North Carolina Projects
During the past week I appeared before the Senate Appropriations Committee along with Senator Jordan to request public works appropriations for several North Carolina projects, including the Morehead City harbor and Wilkesboro Dam. Our requests are reasonable, justified and are indeed modest. We are hopeful that these funds will be approved by Congress and that the bill will not be vetoed by the President as has been the fate of our previous efforts.

To Dedicate Center

On Saturday, May 16, at 3 P. M., I am to speak in Richmond, Va., at the dedication of the National Park Service center for visitors at the Richmond National Battlefield Park. This center will serve the area around Richmond and such famous battlefields as Seven Pines, Savage Station, Glendale, White Oak Swamp, Gaines Mill, Malvern Hill and Mechanicsville. So many North Carolinians fought with the Confederacy in these battles under the leadership of Hill, Hoke, Pender, Ramseur, Ransom and Wilcox in the summer of 1862. Union General McClellan was repulsed and Richmond was saved. The center to be dedicated is located on the site of the famous Confederate hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Tutterow of Statesville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Clara Janice Tutterow, to Corbin Lee Cherry, son of Mrs. W. C. Cherry and the late Mr. Cherry of Hertford. Miss Tutterow will graduate from High Point College May 31, with an A.B. degree in religious education. She is a member of Phi Mu Sorority. Mr. Cherry attended Cowan College and transferred to High Point College where he is a pre-ministerial senior. He is associate member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, and member of the Kappa Chi Ministerial fraternity. The wedding will take place in the Broad Street Methodist Church, Statesville, on September 6.

As further evidence of the significance of the battles around Richmond to North Carolina, such regiments as the 4th, 7th and 18th from our State lost more than 50% of their numbers in the Seven Days battles.

Miss Ila McIlwain, assistant home economics agent, gave a demonstration on House Cleaning. She brought out the points by showing the easy methods for cleaning. The meeting was dismissed by all repeating the Club Collect.

The hostesses served delicious homemade strawberry ice cream and pound cake to the following: Mesdames Edgar Long, Ernest Goodwin, J. C. Hobbs, Emmett Long, Mary Long, W. D. Perry, Oscar Perry, E. J. Proctor, Sr., E. J. Proctor, Jr., Joe Ward, Misses Gertie Chappell, Blanche Goodwin and Miss McIlwain.

Word was received here last Saturday of the death, in San Francisco, Calif., of Mrs. Julia Williford, wife of James Williford. She was the sister-in-law of Mrs. J. H. Bagley and Charles Williford.

KNOW YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

P. E. Bettendorf, representative of the Social Security Administration, is in Hertford the second Wednesday of each month at the Perquimans County Court House.

Yesterday I overheard a conversation between two ladies who were eating lunch. Both felt strongly about their conversation and their voices were raised a little. They were discussing my favorite subject—Social Security—so I couldn't help eavesdropping. Finally, I just couldn't resist any longer and introduced myself as the social security man. Well, the three of us had such an interesting discussion that I thought perhaps you would be interested in what we said.

Both ladies are members of one of the ladies' clubs here in town. One is program chairman and was looking around for a program for next month's meeting. The other had an important problem of her own. Both she and her husband were getting close to retirement age—her husband is almost 65 and she is nearly 62. She was wondering whether she ought to take her social security payments at age 62 or wait until she was 65. Well, I answered her question by explaining about how a woman's benefit is somewhat smaller if she starts getting it before she is 65. I told her what she could expect to get each month if she started getting her social security now and how much if she waited to 65. Well, what began as "just one question" led to a lot more questions and we had a lively discussion.

The other lady had questions of her own to ask. She'd never had her social security card changed from her maiden name. What should she do about this? Also, she'd quit working when she'd gotten married. What would happen to the social security tax she had paid in. As we talked, one of the ladies said, "Isn't it a shame that all of the club members weren't here today to ask their questions about social security?" I told her that the Social Security Administration is very much interested in sending its representatives to meet with groups of all sorts and to help the group members to understand

Chevy pickup pulls through "bottomless" pastures to keep stock fed!

At the Hall Bros. Dairy Farm, Montgomery, Ala., they say this 4-wheel drive Chevy will go anywhere to keep stock fed—even through hub-deep mud that makes it a fight all the way. And get after a full year of it—no mechanical trouble of any kind!

That Chevy pickup may not win any beauty awards (till it's cleaned up). But it's sure walking off with the top prize for dependability. And that's standard Chevrolet procedure. Put a Chevy truck to work and it keeps on working until you say quit. Not before. We aren't claiming that every Chevrolet truck is turning out to be a miracle-worker and averaging 100,000 miles before a valve job. (Even though some are going 150,000!) You're sure to find, however, that you can't buy more truck dependability at any price. And that's borne out by the fact that more truck owners put their faith, and their pay-loads, in Chevrolets than in any other make. Take your load and schedule figures to your Chevrolet dealer. He'll specify the best way to handle both and save in the bargain!

No jobs too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

Now's the time—see your local authorized Chevrolet dealer for a real truck buy!
