Program Features Family Reunion
Sunday, August 25 at the social hall of Sandy Cross Baptist Church approximately 125 descendants of William Henry and Sarah Perry Stallings met in a reunion for the first time in 13 years. Descendants were present from Portsmouth, Va., Norfolk, Va., Winston-Salem, N. C., in addition to those who attended from within distances of a 30-mile radius. Lunch was served at noon buffet style and groups formed along the bridge hall to chat while eating. Highlights of the day included a program of music and singing by the entire group. Kay Dail, pianist, Janie Stallings and Debra Wright, great grandchildren, were heavily applauded after a duet, "Mansions Over the Hill Top." History of the marriage and way of life of the couple was given by a granddaughter, Daisy Stallings. Superlatives by another granddaughter, Mrs. Audrey Venable, informed the group the status of attending members. The family of Will H. Stallings, Jr., had the largest number of living descendants. L. O. Stallings was the oldest of the remaining living children, of which Ken Stallings of Sunbury, N. C., and Sidney Stallings of Portsmouth, Va., now living out of 10 children. The youngest descendant, a great grandson, the youngest grandmother, a former Perquimans girl and graduate of the Perquimans County High School, was Sally Stallings West, now residing in Portsmouth, Va.
Jokes were told by Bill Stallings and Earle Stallings, after which, with Merle Blanchard Wright leading, all sang "Auld Lang Syne" and Matthew Winslow pronounced the benediction.
