NEXT DOOR—They did not say so in their statement, but one of the reasons the Baptist officials wanted to sell the six-year-old building here is that it is now cheek-to-jowl with one of Raleigh's newest and most popular motels.

This is not to imply any criticism of the motel, but a lot of the Baptists here think the Baptist Convention should relocate its headquarters outside the commercial area. Nevertheless, there is nothing here more eyeball-to-eyeball than the Baptists and the motel.

Also, convention headquarters are now situated where Downtown Boulevard empties into Hillsboro Street. There is no busier traffic corner in North Carolina—and perhaps in the whole Southland.

Don't be surprised if efforts continue unabated to construct a new building for the Baptists elsewhere.

DEER—This eight-year-old boy had been begging his daddy all fall to take him deer hunting. Each autumn in his short span on earth he had heard the big talk about hunting deer.

Finally, to put an end to the ceaseless begging his dad one Saturday morning about three weeks ago took Sonny with him on a "deer hunt."

Well, they had not gone far into the woods when, to the dad's great surprise, a big buck deer stopped, nose in the air, only a short distance up the path from them. Daddy, excited, hands shaking at the sudden luck, raised the gun.

However, the son, raised on Walt Disney, looked in amazement at his first real live deer.

in technicolor, there in the forest. "Oh! No! Daddy, you can't shoot Bambi!"

And another deer went high-tailing it off into the woods.

THE HICK—When the press boys found in Washington that a man by the name of L. P. McLendon of Greensboro had been appointed to investigate the Bobby Baker business, they were suspicious. They just knew that Senator Everett Jordan from North Carolina, who as head of the Rules Committee had named McLendon, was up to something.

Well, this showed they knew neither Jordan nor McLendon. Now you have heard that there are no "Big Men" left and we sometimes get the same impression. He is 73, is a son-in-law of the late Governor Charles B. Aycock, is L. P. McLendon. No, he has never been Governor; has never been to Congress; has, to our knowledge, never even served as a Superior Court judge. He is a brother-in-law of Dr. Clarence Poe.

But he has turned down at least one appointment to the State Supreme Court. Solid as a rock, mild-mannered, a man of strong convictions, L. P. McLendon is of average stature. He is ruddy-complexioned, blue-eyed. He describes himself as a "country lawyer." But he is a Big Man, a man to be classed along with the biggest you have seen and read about.

And, we have an idea that Bobby Baker and his like in Washington will say the same thing after all is said and done.

VISITOR—One of Kidd Brewer's old-time friends—since the days when they both worked in Washington—is Bobby Baker. He has visited Kidd here in Raleigh (as who important hasn't?) and on at least one trip to Raleigh shook hands with the leading politicians from all over

North Carolina on a jaunt from the Sir Walter up to the State Capitol.

Even though Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges knows Baker and has known him for a number of years—through Howard Johnson promotions, etc.—you can put it down now that Luther Hodges is free of taint.

Hodges is a past master of political strategy. Dishonest he is not, as certain people who have tried to "deal" with him will tell you.

NOTES—Everett Case, veteran State College basketball coach, has been ailing this fall—in and out of Rex Hospital—and this may well be his last season as a working coach—Sports Announcer Ray Reeve has also been on the ill list for several weeks.

The story here is that an "awful" editorial in the Raleigh News & Observer quartering Mr. Democrat Thad Eure for his authorship of the Gag Law in the recent Legislature has brought to an end the long-time friendship of Editor Jonathan Daniels and Secretary of State Eure. But, each in his own way, is as rough and tough as the other. So, shed no tears.

Some of the REA leaders sincerely believe the only way they can be sure of saving electric cooperatives is to put Robert Scott of Haw River in the Governor's office—and right there is where he is said to be getting so much encouragement—financial and otherwise—to take on Preyer, Moore, Lake and the others. The count-down continues.

Keep an eye on Tom Gilmore of Julian, now president of the YDC's. He is one of their youngest leaders—and thanks to an energetic outlook, high ambition and a personable wife—will go places one of these days in the Democratic Party.

The man doing all that fine publicity for Dan K. Moore is Bill Johnston, who got a lot of his training as one of the assistants in L. Hodges' office when Hodges was Governor.

While our cursed protectors keep leveling their guns on tobacco, another important N. C. crop—sweet potatoes—becomes more important each day. We are impressed with the wide number of new uses—thanks to instant sweet potato flakes. Give them a try for Thanksgiving. Just add water or milk and you're in. The newest thing: sweet potato ice cream.

One of the very sweetest couples in Raleigh are Roy and Lee Wilder—also the most talented—and last week Lee was made head of the new North Hills Merchants Association—and Roy secretary of the Seashore group.

PERQUIMANS INDIANS WIN PLAY-OFF GAME

sion, the Indians scored the first two times they got the ball. Havelock couldn't gain with the kickoff and punted out at mid-field. Harris, the Combs twins and Jimmy Byrum, along with some short passes from Francis to Jimmy Hunter, moved it to the 10. Freddie went back to pass, found all receivers covered and then threaded his way up the middle for the touchdown. He passed to Hunter for the extra point.

Havelock was forced to kick after three plays following the kickoff and Freddie fielded it on the Indians' 24, faked a hand-off to Francis, swung to the left sidelines and with the help of three crisp blocks, galloped 76 yards for the score. Hunter converted.

Midway the fourth period Freddie recovered a Havelock fumble on the Rams' 29 and in five plays the Indians had their final score. The Indians were set back on the first play by a 15-yard penalty but Freddie got four and Francis passed to his

N. C. Cotton Crop Above '62 Figure

Production of cotton in North Carolina is forecast at 335,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight by the North Carolina Crop-Reporting Service. This forecast, based on reports from growers and ginneries as of November 1, is 20,000 bales above the 315,000 bales indicated on October 1. The 1963 crop of 335,000 bales exceeds 1962 production by 60,000 bales and is 27 percent above the five-year (1957-61) average.

Lint yield per acre this year is estimated at 427 pounds. This is 100 pounds above last year's 327 pound yield and 66 pounds above the five-year average of

Joint Rights To Safe Deposit Boxes

May a safe deposit box be rented by two persons? Yes. More often, however, the box is rented by one person alone, who may in writing appoint another as his deputy or agent to have access to the box, upon presentation of the key. brother for 19 and a personal foul penalty against the Rams put the Indians on the Havelock 11. Harris took over here, getting 7 yards off the left side before turning left end from the four for the touchdown.

Statistically, Perquimans led in first downs 15-4, netted 272 yards rushing to Havelock's 39; completed six of 14 passes for 55 yards, intercepted three, lost two fumbles and were penalized 66 yards. Havelock tried 21 passes, hit on six for 34 yards net, intercepted one pass, lost two fumbles and were penalized 50 yards.

The Indians will meet the Cary-Stedman winner this week for the eastern finals.

This Is The Law

May a safe deposit box be rented by two persons? Yes. box renter automatically terminates the authority of his deputy or agent.

A safe deposit box in the vault of a bank has been leased by a husband. The husband has given to his wife one of the duplicate keys and has appointed her his deputy or agent. The husband dies. Who now has access to the safe deposit box?

The person who qualifies as the executor or administrator of the husband's estate. The wife's appointment as her husband's deputy or agent has been terminated by his death.

The statutes of North Carolina require the presence of the clerk of the Superior Court at the opening of a safe deposit box in the vault of a bank "upon the death of any person using or having access to such lock box."

The law imposes upon the clerk of the Superior Court, or his representative, a duty to make an inventory of the safe deposit box, in the presence of a representative of the bank, and to furnish a copy of the inventory to the Commissioner of Revenue, the executor or administrator of the decedent, or cotenant of the decedent, and the bank.

If the wife should die before the husband, the husband would not have an immediate free access to the safe deposit box which he has rented in his own name. Since in this case his deceased wife has had access to the box, the presence of the clerk of the Superior Court and the making of an inventory by him is a condition precedent to the opening of the box for the first time following his wife's death. Where the decedent merely had access to the safe deposit box, the inventory by the clerk of the Superior Court includes only assets in which the decedent had an interest.

Which type Chevrolet pickup do you need?

Chevrolet now makes four different types, each with its own distinct advantages. Whichever one you buy will be a lot more truck than your money bought the last time!

FLEETSIDE. Based on sales, the best liked pickup in the world. Outstanding feature is its large body extending clear out over the wheels. Two body sizes. Two wheel-bases. Best riding truck, by far, with coil springs all around and independent front suspension. Cab and body have double-wall construction. Chevrolet Fleetside—best for all-around use.

STEPSIDE. Has flat interior body walls and convenient side steps between cab and rear fenders. Comes in same two sizes as the Fleetside plus one bigger size. Big model has heavier frame, 4-speed transmission and leaf-spring rear suspension for maximum payloads. Standard engine is 230-cu.-in. Six. A 292 Six or 283 V8 is available at extra cost.

RAMPside. Nobody else makes a pickup exactly like this one with a ramp at the side. The ramp makes loading easy because of its 16-inch rise. Truck also has a conventional tailgate. Body and frame-floor assembly are very rigid because they are welded together. Has larger 95-hp air-cooled engine this year. Independent coil spring suspension all around.

EL CAMINO. If you want a pickup as good looking as any car on the road, this is the one! It can work hard, and look like a million dollars doing it—the only pickup in the world with Body by Fisher! You can order an El Camino as plain or as fancy as you wish: bucket seats, air conditioning, 4-speed transmission, power brakes are some of its extra-cost options.
