

KNOW YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

Richard M. Myer, representative of the Social Security Administration, is in Hertford the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at Perquimans County Court House.

As a self-employed farmer you enjoy a number of rights under the provision of the Social Security Act. You and your family are protected against loss of income brought about by old age, disability and death.

In addition to these rights, you also have certain obligations under the Social Security Act as an employer. The most important of these obligations is to report the wages you pay to your farm employees so that they can get the same protection you are enjoying.

Not all farm employees are covered by Social Security. However, any employee to whom you pay at least $150 in cash wages during the year, or any employee who works for you at least 20 days during the year (regardless of total earnings) must be reported. You should file these reports with the Internal Revenue Service at the end of each year. As an employer there are four things you should do:

1. Whenever a new employee starts to work for you, copy his name and Social Security number directly from his Social Security card.
2. Keep an accurate record of the amount you pay each employee during the year and the number of days he works for you. Be sure to include only the cash wages you pay—not wages in kind, such as board and room.

3. If you have not already done so, get an employer's identification number from your local Internal Revenue Office by filing a Form SS-4 available at any Internal Revenue Office.

4. Report once a year to Internal Revenue the wages paid to any employee who either earned $150 in cash wages or who worked for you for at least 20 days during the year and was paid on a time basis, i. e., by the hour or day. You withhold from your employee's pay 3-5/8% of his wages, add another 3-5/8% as the employer's share of the tax, and send it with your report to Internal Revenue Service.

MRS. EURE RETIRES AS PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHER

HEADED TWO WAYS—What's this, a two-headed giraffe with two different directions on his mind? No, it's just an illusion created by two different giraffes—one behind the other—on a Catskill, N.Y., game farm which they call home.

THE PER-CO-HI SPECTATOR

By Jerry Sullivan and Beth Hurdle

The Student Council observed National Education Week with a special assembly on "Teacher Appreciation". The program was in the form of skits, taking some of the favorite quotations in the classroom from each teacher. After the skit, each teacher was presented a "big" red apple.

Anyone wishing to purchase a "Perquimans Indians" sweatshirt contact a Student Council member before November 25. They are available in all sizes, and colors are blue and white. The sweatshirt proved to be so popular, an additional order is being made.

Thirty-three football players were honored when they received letters or stars in an assembly program Friday, November 15th.

The Perquimans Indians scalped the Havelock Rams 40-0 in the first round of the regional play-offs Friday, November 15 in Flicker Stadium at East Carolina College, Greenville, N. C. The title match will again be played in Greenville November 22. In this season final Perquimans will take on the Stedman Rams.

Mirandy Says

By Dora T. Riddick
Man, Man! did you know There's goin' to be a rally? All us folks is goin' 'cause Hil's all right down our alley. Hil's goin' to be fun to hear Them men called "Candy Dates" And when each one gits up to speak We'll clap just like they rates.

We folks all just loves to hear The promises they makes, The whole world will be better 'cause They've got just what it takes. An' when I gits to listening I forgits that hard old seat, I bet they call 'em "Candy Dates" Because they talks so sweet.
