Shortage Noted In Bond Quota

In 1964 the U. S. Savings Bonds Program in North Carolina achieved its best all-around peacetime performance in its 21-year history.

For the second consecutive year North Carolina exceeded its annual dollar quota. Total sales of Series E and H bonds for the year amounted to $1,759,451, which is 103.5 percent of the 1964 goal of $50 million—the largest volume of sales recorded for any year since 1955.

Sales in Perquimans County amounted to $45,209, which is 84.3 percent of its 1964 goal, according to R. M. Riddick, County Volunteer Chairman.

In addition to its record sales performance, the Savings Bonds Program experienced substantial growth in the Payroll Savings Plan for Bonus last year. As the result of over 100 campaigns conducted in leading industries of the state, 17,731 new purchasers of bonds were added to the Payroll Savings Plan.

The news and advertising division of N. C. continued as a pace setter for the nation in the amount of time and space donated for the use of Savings Bonds material.

In concluding on the year's achievements, State Director, Walter P. Johnson expressed the appreciation of the U. S. Treasury and its savings bonds division for the great service rendered by volunteer banks, industry, news and advertising media and other organizations in the promotion of the bonds program. Johnson stated, "We are indeed fortunate in having the support of so many prominent state and local business leaders without whom the continued growth and success of the bonds program would be impossible."

Barbara Elliott Tells Story Of Experience In Sewing

Barbara Elliott, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Elliott, completed the 4-H Pre-Teen Clothing Unit, A.B.C.'s of Sewing for 1964. The requirements for this project were to complete a drawstring apron, one pot holder and to learn to use sewing tools, thread a needle and make a knot, baste fabric, thread a sewing machine, press cotton as you sew, and sew a button on correctly.

Barbara exhibited her apron and pot holder at the local and county achievement programs, where she was declared County Project Champion in the Apron Division. In addition to the requirements, Barbara's record shows that she also learned to turn corners, finish seams, and put on a pocket.

The following story written by Barbara tells of her sewing experiences:

Sewing Stretches Clothing Dollar

A delicate, weathered by the hands of many homemakers—"Should I buy or make clothing for the family?" Perhaps most families will undoubtedly be both. Here sewing is a real dollar stretcher for anyone who has the skill to satisfactorily make needed garments. Sewing not only eases families to get more for their money, but it also aids in keeping them in good condition. Making these clothes that cost less must show a tremendous saving.

It should be remembered that if you sew you should have a desire to increase your knowledge of sewing and keep up-to-date with the latest methods.

Barbara Elliott Tells Story Of Experience In Sewing

Blue is my favorite color, so I chose material with blue as the background color. I purchased my material from Darden's Department Store for only 39c per yard. I didn't want to get anything more expensive as this was my first project. I got a yard of material and one spool of matching blue thread which cost 15c.

I made a lot of mistakes while I was making my apron. My first mistake was made after I measured and cut according to my 4-H project manual directions. I then picked up the wrong piece of fabric and was through basting before I noticed I had the shorter portion. I didn't change the material, therefore my finished apron is a little shorter than suggested. I also ran the drawstring through the bottom hem instead of the top casing. My mother discovered this mistake before I had gone too far.

I really enjoyed my sewing project and plan to do better in my next project.
