Mayor Seeking Support Of Hertford Citizens For Forthcoming Bond Election

Residents of Hertford will go to the polls on Saturday, March 20 to either vote favorably or against the $470,000 sewage bond issue.

Mayor V. N. Darden is in hopes that a favorable vote on the bond issue will be submitted by residents or voters. It is necessary if Hertford can be assured of a sewage disposal system that the vote be "yes." He pointed out that the bond issue approval was necessary in order to assure the city of a federal appropriation to apply on the cost of installing a sewage disposal plant.

The Town of Hertford, like many other towns throughout the state, is spurred on by the State Stream Sanitation Committee and public law. It is a program that the law requires to be carried out toward accomplishing the necessary pollution abatement measures. And in which construction to begin on or before January 1, 1965, the work is supposed to be completed and the sewage disposal placed into operation on or before January 1, 1966.

A temporary permit from the N. C. State Stream Sanitation Committee has been granted the Town for discharging of domestic sewage into the river for a temporary period only. This was in accordance to application dated August 30, 1962. The temporary permit issued to the Town of Hertford on September 7, 1962, was signed by E. C. Hubbard, secretary of the State Stream Sanitation Committee. The permit is effective until January 1, 1966.

The local undertaking will tie in all sewage lines with a central pumping station and provide a disposal plant. The Town of Hertford is eligible to receive a federal grant for the project but must have approval of the public on the $470,000 bond issue in order to meet requirements. Mayor Darden explained that if the bond vote does not pass, revenue bonds will have to be

Tunnel Talks On Presiding

Parliamentary Procedure is important in any meeting, regardless of how small or how large the group. Common courtesy among the group is the key to insuring the best parliamentary order. Tommy Long acted as chairman and the following boys demonstrated parliamentary procedures: Tim Baker, Ray Winslow, Carter Rogerson, Lee Brabble, Ray Perry, Steve Riddick, and Harold White. Parliamentary procedure is used in conducting meetings in order for the majority to rule, but to give the minority an opportunity to have a part.

Motions are made in order to introduce a new subject. There are three steps in securing the floor: Member rises, addresses president, then member is recognized by president. After the motion is made, it must have a second or motion dies. President calls for discussion and then the vote.
