Miss Louisa Stator Godwin of Williamston, N. C., became the bride of Lt. (jg) Anthony J. Celebrezze, U.S.N., in a traditional military ceremony at Annapolis, Maryland last Saturday.

The former Miss Godwin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hudgins Godwin, Jr., of Williamston, N. C. Her husband is the son of Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze and Mrs. Celebrezze of Chevy Chase, Md. Commander Mark Sullivan, Chaplain's Corps, U.S.N., officiated at the noon ceremony which was held in the chapel of the U. S. Naval Academy.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of satin trimmed with side-panels and long sleeves of re-embroidered chantilly lace and a chapel train. Her tulle veil was held in place by a satin pillbox, and her bouquet was a spray of bridal roses and a white orchid.

Mrs. Celebrezze's bridesmaids included her sister, Miss Beverly Winslow Godwin as maid of honor, Mrs. David Griggs of Charlotte, N. C., the Misses Susan and Jean Celebrezze, sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Kathryn Dornbrook of Washington, D.C. The attendants were dressed in floor-length gowns of green tulle with embroidered bands of the same shade as the glabella spray forming their bouquets.

Second Lt. John Louis Desmone, U.S.A.R., served as best man. Like the bridegroom and the ushers he wore navy dress whites. Immediately after the double ring ceremony, the bride and groom passed through the traditional sword arch and on to the reception given by the bride's parents at the Academy Alumni House to greet their guests. Numerous friends and relatives of the bride from Williamston, Enfield and Hertford as well as members of the bridegroom's family from Cleveland, Ohio and Washington, D. C., were present.

Before leaving on their honeymoon, the newlyweds appeared on the Alumni House balcony from which the bride tossed her bouquet to her sister, Miss Beverly Godwin. Her going-away outfit was a yellow suit covered with white crocheted lace and a yellow pillbox.

Mrs. Celebrezze was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro in 1963, while her husband was graduated from the Naval Academy, also in 1963. She is employed as an analyst by the Department of Defense in Washington. After the honeymoon, the couple will live in Annapolis, Md.

Previous to the wedding, Miss Godwin was honored at a luncheon at the Maryland Inn in Annapolis by the mother of the bride, Mrs. Charles Hudgins Godwin, Jr., Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze and Mrs. Celebrezze entertained with a buffet supper at the Maryland Inn, after the wedding rehearsal Friday evening for members of the bridal party and their families.

Mrs. Celebrezze is a niece of Miss Thelma Elliott and Mrs. Eldon Winslow of Hertford.
