PCHS has been hopping for the past two weeks. The Monogram Club held its annual banquet Thursday, April 26. Joe Haskett received the Most Valuable Player Award.

FFA and FHA meetings were held Friday, April 21. The Health Club rounded out the slate with their monthly meeting on Tuesday, April 25.

The Marching Unit, again represented PCHS at the Azalea Festival parade. The girls also attended the coronation of the Azalea Queen.

The Class of 1967 was honored at a party in the lunch room Saturday, April 22. Senior mascots and their parents provided an evening of entertainment with Frank Roberts, formerly of WCDJ. The evening was rounded out with Carolyn White and Monnie Divers' winning a free weekend at Surf City, N. C.

The baseball teams won three games and lost one. They defeated the Falcons of Bertie, the Ahoskie Indians and the Fighting Scots of Scotland Neck. The Williamston Green Waves upset the locals by a score of 8-4 at Williamston.

The eighth grade presented a special assembly Friday. They invited a missionary from Brazil to lecture and show some slides of the country.

The junior class was really busy the week of April 23. They were preparing for the annual Junior-Senior on April 29. This year's theme was "An Evening in Venice," and, as usual, it was a hectic week.

The grand honor of the class of 1967 was announced last week. Joe Haskett and Lela Mae Long were named valedictorian and salutatorian respectively. Jan White, Joyce Copeland, Grand Chappell, Phil Graham, Geraldine Neale, Larry Quilley, Andy Rogerson and Fred Murray completed the list. These seniors will take part in the commencement exercises.

BABY GIRL
Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Lane announce the birth of a daughter, Mary Kay, born Monday, April 24, at Chowan Hospital. Mrs. Lane is the former Yvonne Winslow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oras Winslow.
