Family Planning Programs To Be Held At Greenville; County Office Holders Invited

Two major state departments and three cooperating agencies have joined forces in a combined effort to increase local interest in developing family planning programs in communities throughout North Carolina. The State Department of Public Welfare, the State Health Department, along with the Maternal and Child Health Division of the UNC School of Public Health, the Carolina Population Center and Planned Parenthood — World Population, are jointly sponsoring a series of six Family Planning Workshops as a means of developing more opportunities for community service in this field.

Two of these workshops will be held in early November in Raleigh and in Greenville. The remaining four will be scheduled early in 1968.

County Commissioners, legislators, local health and welfare board members, professional health and welfare workers, interested citizens and members of the recently created North Carolina Committee on Population and the Family in 22 Eastern North Carolina counties have been invited to the Greenville workshop on November 8, this session to be held at the Moose Lodge on US Highway 264, at its intersection with US No. 13. The all-day session is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. and include a luncheon at noon for those attending from the counties of Beaufort, Bertie, Camden, Carteret, Chowan, Craven, Currituck, Dare, Gates, Greene, Hertford, Hyde, Jones, Lenoir, Martin, Northampton, Pamlico, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Pitt, Tyrrell and Washington.

A similar program is scheduled for the following day at the Ir Walter Hotel in Raleigh for the counties of Wake, Durham, Edgecombe, Franklin, Granville, Halifax, Johnston, Nash, Person, Vance, Warren, Wayne, Wilson, and Yancey. All sessions are open to the public.

State Senator Marshall A. Louch of Gastonia, chairman of the North Carolina Committee on Population and the Family, will be the principal speaker at the luncheon session each day. His subject will be "The Social and Financial Benefits of Family Planning."

Treasury Dept. Pushing "Bond-a-Month" Plan

The Treasury Department is campaigning this fall to emphasize the "Bond-a-Month" method of purchasing U.S. Savings Bonds and new Freedom Shares, according to R.M. Riddick, Jr., Executive Vice-President, Peoples Bank & Trust Co., Hertford, Volunteer Savings Bonds Chairman for Perquimans County.

"Most people are familiar with the Payroll Savings Plan for automatic Bond purchases," Mr. Riddick said. "But if you are self-employed or otherwise unable to buy Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares where you work, you should investigate the Bond-a-Month Plan which is available at many banks. The purpose of this fall's campaign is to encourage participation in the opportunity."

The Bond-a-Month Plan is a free service to depositors. It is an automatic method by which a bank purchases a Savings Bond and a Freedom Share for the customer each month charging the transaction to his checking account.

"A lot of people are not familiar with the new Freedom product to Series E Bonds, Freedom Shares," Mr. Riddick continued. "Freedom Shares are a bonus opportunity offered to regular purchasers of Savings Bonds. They are Savings Notes, paying a higher rate of interest—4.74 per cent when held to maturity (4 1/2 years). They are redeemable after one year. Freedom Shares are available only in combination with Savings Bonds—on a regular monthly purchase plan.

"Therefore, the Bond-a-Month Plan offered by banks and other financial institutions provides a unique savings opportunity for self-employed individuals or those who, for one reason or another, are unable to join a Payroll Savings Plan where they work."

Freedom Shares are available in four denominations—$25, $50, $75 and $100—and they are issued in combination with Series E Bonds of like or larger denominations. The maximum monthly investment for the purchase of Freedom Shares is $81, cost price of the $100 denomination.
