Friday, Feb. 2nd Ground Hog Day

The world's most unreliable weather prognosticator is about to make his annual prognostication.

According to American folklore, the ground hog, or woodchuck, awakens from his long winter sleep on February 2. He sticks his head out of his hole in the ground and looks around.

If he sees his shadow he crawls back into his hole and this is supposed to mean that there will be six more weeks of winter weather.

If he doesn't see his shadow, he stays out of his hole, and this is supposed to mean that spring weather soon will come.

Well, what about this? Not much. World Book Encyclopedia's article on "February" says bluntly, "Only superstitious people believe this story," while World Book's article on "Ground-Hog Day" says more tactfully, "Science has not confirmed this."

So it seems that on the whole, the Weather Bureau is more reliable than the average ground hog.

Words of the Wise

Most men fail, not through lack of education, but from lack of dogged determination and from lack of dauntless will.

Food Outlook For 1968

What can Perquimans County Families expect in the consumption, prices and expenditures for 1968?

The outlook for 1968 is for continued expansion of both food expenditures and consumer income. Food expenditures in 1968 likely will increase at about the same rate as in 1967, but the percentage of income going for food probably will remain around the 1967 level.

Prices for all livestock food products averaged about 1 percent lower in 1967 than in 1966. Prices were substantially lower in 1967 for eggs, poultry and pork products, but prices for dairy products and fish averaged higher over 1966. Consumption in 1967 was much larger for beef, pork, poultry and eggs. But, in 1968 per capita consumption likely will be lower in 1968 for eggs.

Veal and lamb consumption is expected to decline again in 1968 at a rate equal to 1967.

Beef and pork production, which was up in 1967, resulted in more meat per person than ever before. This trend is expected to level off in 1968. Even with continued strong consumer demand, livestock product prices are not expected to average higher in 1968 than in 1967.

Card of Thanks

I am writing to express my appreciation and heartfelt thanks to my many friends, relatives, neighbors, and the many churches for the kind and willing acts of remembrance rendered me while I was a patient in the Albemarle Hospital and since I have been home.

May God bless each one throughout the year and always.

Yours in Christ
Willis I. Winslow

Prospective citrus fruit production in 1968 is expected to be smaller. Higher prices are likely for most items, both fresh and processed. Per capita consumption is expected to be less for citrus in 1968 over 1967 due to smaller crops and higher prices. A reduction in apples, grapes, pears and cranberries stored fresh will reflect higher prices in the first part of 1968.

Supplies of canned and frozen vegetables are larger than 1967. Potato supplies are close to the record of a year ago, and production of sweet potatoes is up slightly.

Processed vegetable prices for 1968 are expected to average a little below those of 1967. Food expenditures are expected to increase in the next 3 to 5 years. Greatest gains will be for food consumed away from home and for the processed foods. Food marketing services and demand for food are expected to rise, but not at the same rate as non-food services.
