Cancer Leading Cause-Of Death in Women

Breast cancer, the leading cause of death in women, was the first site of cancer to be singled out by the American Cancer Society as a target for a national public education pro-

Of an estimated 65,000 new cases of breast cancer in 1968 experts predict an estimated 8,000 deaths from the disease. When breast cancer is found early, more than eight out of every ten women so afflicted can be saved. But delay serves to reduce the chances of survival almost in half. The five-year survival rate for localized breast cancer is 82 per cent against a mere 47 per cent when the disease has spread throughout the body.

Surgery is the standard method of treating breast cancer, while occasionally radiotheraphy or chemotheraphy is used in conjunction

The most important weapon against breast cancer is the patient's own vigilance. When every woman learns to make an examination routinely and to act promptly if any unusual conditions are detected, many lives will be saved which un-fortunately today are being lost through ignorance or fear. In addition to this monthly selfexamination, all women should have a health checkup once a year by a physician. This should nclude breast and pelvic examinations, as well as a Papsmear

Not all lumps and breast abnormalities are cancerous, but no abnormality should never be

Women in Perquimans County are urged to write the American Cancer Society at the Perqui-mans County Unit in Hertford mans County Unit in Hertford for their free copy of the leaflet "Personal Memo for Today, BSE?" which shows the steps involved in making their own breast examinations in the privacy of their homes. The Soclety also has a 15-minute film illustrating the procedure for breast self-examination that shows on request, free of charge, bufore any woman's group. The Society will also arrange to have a physician present to answer questions.

Hertford Water Plant To Install Electric Heat

The regular meeting of the Town Board of Commissioners was held on November 11, 1968 at the Municipal Building.

After hearing a reading from the city attorney, the Board approved an agreement with the County for 2.9 acres of digging rights at a price of $1,740.

W.T. Elliott, Chairman, reported that ABC Store sales for October were $18,856,85. The Board had a discussion on blind corners on our city streets and the fact that they presented a hazard to drivers. Plans are now underway to eliminate this problem, Also, the Board authorized signs to be placed at the two entries to the cemetery prohibiting nothrough trucks traffic. This type traffic creates damage to the street as the vehicles are too heavy. The Board asked for a survey on the estimated cost of laving sidewalk on south side of Grubb Street Woodland Avenue to Charles Street.

W.S. Long advised of a Civil Defense meeting of city and county officers of this area to be held November 13. He asked that all that could attend to please do so.

The Board passed a resolution requesting the Post Office Department to provide city carrier service to all residences with the city limits. F.T. Britt reported to the Board that progress is being made on returned on in the business area on December 6.

The Board approved installation of electric heat in the water plant at a cost of approximately $450. This will be less expensive that the present system of piping the heat to the water plant from the ice plant, Also discussed was the purchase of land on the east side of the cemetery to be used as an addition to the present cemetery. This matter will be decided at the next regular meeting.

Roman Gabriel Chairman Christmas Seal Campaign

Roman Gabriel, the quarter-back for the Los Angeles Rams and former two - time All-American at North Carolina State University, is no stranger to record smashing. And he doesn't confide his ability to set records to the football field. Gabriel is Chairman of the 1968 Christmas Seal Campaign in North Carolina and he is just as determined to set a record in this year's drive as he is to-bring down football reports. In the Chairman's annual message, Gabriel has issued a long distance challenge to Tar Heels to join the campaign and help fight tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

"The fight against lung disease is a great deal like an athletic contest," Gabriel said. "There is need for a quarterback, but everybody on the team plays the game."

> Gabriel, who still holds most of the passing records at North Carolina State, maintains a strong interest in his native state. For the past several years he has returned to the North Carolina State campus during the summer to participate in a football clinic that is sponsored by the University football staff. "Working with youngsters who want to play football is al-ways a pleasure. But I know that there are many boys who would like to be on a football my part."

would like to be on a football field, but they are confined to a hospital with tuberculosis. Working for them through the Christmas Seal Campaign is an even greater pleasure, because one day those youngsters may be able to put on a football uniform and play the game with the best of them," he said.

Christmas Seal letters are being delivered to the homes of North Carolinians throughout the state this month. Officials of the State Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association hope this year's campaign will be the most successful in history.

Los Angeles quarterback Roman Gabriel accepts the double-barred cross to officially become the 1968 North Carolina Seal Chairman. Gabriel, a native of Wilmington and former star quarterback for North Carolina State University, was selected to direct this year's campaign by the North Carolina Tuber-culosis and Respiratory Disease Association. Aspiring quarter-back Steve Mayaur presents the symbolic cross to Gabriel.
