Perquimans Historical Society Wins First Place

The Perquimans County His-torical Society won 1st place for the Window Display presented in Edenton during "The Pilgrimage of Colonial Edenton and Country-side" April 18-20, Organisations of the Albemarie Area were invited to display an Historical Window in Edenton. Perquimans County Historical Society entered a window which was labeled, "18th and 19th Cen-tury Carpenter's Shop". The background was all from a building erected in 1797. Most of the tools of that day and time were exhibited as well as work bench, saw horses, partially made bread trays wooden bowls, etc.

The first prize money of $75,00 can be well used by the Society. Most of the credit for this window should go to Society member, Troy Elliott, who furnished all of the tools displayed, as well as doing most of the work that went into the construction.

This was the second time the local Historical Society has entered a window. The first time took second place. The county has the history and material all it needs is enough county interest. We have an industry lying dormant - with a little interest, it can become a major ating it to great advantage, and we have more of it than most.

Would you believe there are over 100 houses in the county over 100 years old? The oldest brick house in North Carolina is in this county. The oldest wood and brick house that can be proved. The Perquimans County Historical Society is now and has been for several months trying to secure approval from the Department of Archives and History to enable it to apply for a Restoration Grant. However it takes more than a few working toward this end. It has to have a county wide support. Dues are $2,00 per year and there 4 meetings a year. At the end of the year the Society publishes a year book which alone is worth more than the $2.00. New industries are fine, but why not make the most of what we have while we wait? And the main thing - leave the coming generations an idea of how things were then - Send a checkto Mrs. Sarah Winslow, Treasurer, Perquimans County Historical Society, Hertford, N. C. You will never be sorry you did, and untold numbers yet to be born will be glad you did,

Bethel Baptist Church Has Interesting Origin

born in Martin County, N. C., on 27 Nov. 1762, After serving in the American army during the Revolution, he was baptized in 1782 or 1784 and ordained to the ministry in 1707. He becamepass tor of Yeopim Baptist Church in 1796 and joined the separating members who formed Bethel Church in 1806.

Ross was married, first, to Deborah Clayton Moore (daugh-ter of Richard Per-quiman) and, to Mary Skinner Harver (daughter of Josh-ua and Sarah Creecy Skinner). His second wife owned a large platation south of Hertford (part of which is now owned by Jacob L. White) on which she and Ross lived and where they are buried.

The Rev. Mr., Ross had two sons, Martin and Waher. He sent a pupil to Hertford Academy in 1821-1822 and the first teacher at the Academy, Wm. S. Leonard, wrote on 7 Aug. 1819 that "Mr. Ross told . . . in his sermon the other day that the doctrine of the trinity, unconditional elec-tion & Total deparvity were doctrines that ought to be believed but no mortal could fully understand them nor was it probable ever would, so he seldom preaches on those doctrines (or) mentions them . . . (he says) adore &

Outside the Church, Martin Ross was active in the Masonic Lodge in Hertford. When the present Perquimans County Courthouse was opened for use in August 1825, Ross gave the opening prayer.

Laboring for 40 years in the ministry, Ross was very active in promoting Baptist unity. He is regarded as a founder of the Chowan Baptist Association and a father of the North Carolina Bantist Convention. Some controversy has existed concerning the date of Martin Ross's death. Church records suggest he died in 1827 and the marker erected to his memory in front of Bethel Church gives that date. His tombstone is dated October 1828. His will was written on 27 Jan. 1828 and probated at February Term of Court 1828, thus indicating he died in late January or early February 1828, However, the original copy of the will, now in the State Archives, bears an annotation apprently written by Bethel deacon John Wood, then Clerk of Inferior Court, proving conclusively that "Mr Ross died on Saturday the 2nd of February

Cancer Clinic To Be Held May 2

Loans For Medical Careers Available

In North Carolina, as elsewhere in the nation, the distri-bution of qualified medical personnel is becoming more acute with the constant expanding of our medical services and public health programs. This is particularly true in the more rural areas, community hospitals, state-owned medical facilities and in the field of public and

Loans from the Medical Care Commission are available for study in the following specialties: Clinical Psychology. Dental Hygiene, Dentistry, Dietetics, Medical Record, Library Science, Medical Recreation, Medical Social Work, Medical Sociology, Sociology of Health, Medical Technology, Medicine, Nurse Anesthesia, Nursing, Occupational Therapy, Optometry, Pharmacy, Physical Therapy, Public Health, (Physicians only)

As other areas are found to be in critical need, the Commission will announce the availability of loans for special study.

This is not a general loan program. Loans are confined to specific studies in the medical and other health related professions for students who agree to practice their specialties in communities of limited population and specified health programs in North Carolina in which there is an urgent need. Assistance is restricted to selected North Carolina residents in need of financial resources of the applicant, his interest and academic capabilities will be examined very carefully by the Commission in selecting participants in the loan program.

All loans are cancelled on the basis of professional practice in accordance with the loan agreement one calendar year for each academic year or fraction thereof for which a loan is received. If the recipient is unable to practice as specified upon completion of professional training, he agrees to repay the loan on demand at 6 per cent interest.

If you need a loan in order to enter a health field contact Mrs. Rose Riddick in the guidance office at Perquimans County High School for details concerning eligibility regulations.
