Miss North Carolina, Patricia (Patsy) Johnson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Johnson, Winston-Salem. She is a student, majoring in voice, at Meredith College, Raleigh.

She competed in the Miss North Carolina Pageant at Miss Raleigh.

Miss North Carolina, Patricia Johnson, is shown in her presentation gown for the Miss America Pageant, to be in Atlantic City, September 2-6. A gift from Cone Mills, the dress is by North Carolina designer Luther Winborne Self. It is made of French lace over Cone's chiffon crepe, has princess lines, a portrait neckline and is adorned with pearls, iridescents and tiny pink bows. Floor-length panels of the chiffon drape from back of the shoulders.

U. S. Labor Dept. Gives Contract For Training Course

RALEIGH - The North Carolina Department of Water and Air Resources has received a contract from the U. S. Department of Labor for a 44-week training course for 80 wastewater treatment plant operators.

The course will consist of classroom work conducted at selected technical institutes and municipal wastewater treatment plants, and on-the-job training conducted by an instructor who will work with each trainee at the plant where he is employed. The total program embraces approximately 330 hours of classroom instruction and 1,430 hours of on-the-job training.

This training will be offered at no cost to the trainee other than expenses to and from the technical institute. All books, instructional materials and supplies will be furnished. There will be no cost to the employer other than necessary time away from the job.

The 1969 General Assembly enacted legislation which requires the examination and certification of wastewater treatment plant operators in responsible charge of treatment works by July 1, 1971. This training will assist all operators not previously certified in qualifying for operation, as well as up-dating their knowledge and skill necessary to operate and maintain modern wastewater treatment facilities efficiently.

Additional information on this program may be obtained from W. E. Long, Jr., Department of Water and Air Resources, P. O. Box 9392, Raleigh 27603.

82 North Carolinians Are Convicted Of Tax Fraud

Eighty-two North Carolina citizens have been convicted of federal income tax fraud or illegal wagering operations in the past five years, William A. Morris, Intelligence Chief for IRS, reported today.

Jail sentences totaling nearly 75 years and probation of almost 300 years resulted from these convictions.

Total tax and penalties amounted to over 6 million dollars and fines were imposed in the sum of $225,000 as a result of these actions by IRS.

The occupations of those convicted ran the gamut of livelihoods. They included doctors, lawyers, farmers, storekeepers, housewives, bookies and bartenders. Also convicted were a CPA, a shoe polish manufacturer, a tobacco auctioneer, a textile executive, and a railroad switchman. Two were unemployed.

Also convicted was one individual already serving a prison sentence. He tried his hand at filing multiple tax returns from jail in the hope of receiving erroneous refund checks. He received 96 additional months in prison.

Chief Morris says that there are 28 IRS Special Agents in North Carolina actively engaged in seeking out and bringing to justice the few who resort to fraud in federal tax matters.

Remember, your local social security office will always be glad to help you establish your age, whether you're filing for benefits now or plan to in the future. The local office is open Monday through Friday from 9:45 a.m. until 5:00 p.m., and on Saturday from 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 Noon.

Age Limit Lowered In Learning Lab At COA

The learning lab at the College of the Albemarle is pleased to announce that the age limit for enrollment in the lab has been lowered by the Department of Community Colleges. Anyone sixteen years or older may enroll.

The learning lab is approved by the Veterans Administration. Veterans and wives and children of disabled and deceased veterans who wish to complete their high school education are eligible to receive financial assistance to attend the lab.

The learning lab has added two new courses which should be of interest to all persons in the area. The courses are "Phonics in a Nutshell" (text and records) for any age person and "Vocabulary Improvement" (text and tapes) for high school students, college students, and adults.

There are no organized classes at the learning lab. Each person sets up his own schedule and comes when it is convenient for him. There is no charge for attending. Interested persons may call 335-5461 for information.

Civil Service Offered Professional Nurses

The U. S. Civil Service Commission today issued a comprehensive new announcement (No. 419) to fill professional nurse positions, GS-4 through 15, nationwide and overseas.

For the first time, the professional nurse interested in working for the Federal Government can learn from a single brochure of the many career opportunities available in the competitive civil service, the military services, Veterans Administration, and the Commissioned Corps of the Public Health Service, as well as in volunteer agencies such as the Peace Corps and VISTA.

Experienced professional nurses will find a wide variety of career opportunities open to them depending on their particular specialization. Opportunities are available in specializations such as operating room, occupational health, psychiatric, clinical, administration, research, anesthesia, and many others. Well-qualified candidates will be considered for appointment without regard to race, creed, color, sex, national origin, politics, or any other nonmerit factor. For many of these positions the Federal Government will pay moving expenses to the first post of duty.

Entry levels depend on education and experience. Positions at all grades require graduation from an accredited school of professional nursing, and current State registration. Graduates of 2-year associate degree programs are qualified to enter at GS-4, graduates of 3-year programs at GS-5. A year of professional experience at GS-5 generally qualifies for the normal full performance level of GS-7. Starting salaries at the first full performance level range from $634 to $722 a month. Pay rates for all professional nurse positions, which vary by locality to keep them competitive with non-Federal rates, are specified in a supplement which accompanies the announcement.

Announcement No. 419 may be obtained from Federal job information centers in major metropolitan areas, from many post offices in cities without job information centers, or from the Interagency Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for Washington, D. C., 1900 E. St., N. W. Washington, D. C. 20415. Interested applicants desiring further information about Federal employment, such as fringe benefits, age, citizenship, and veteran preference, are advised also to request a copy of U. S. Civil Service Commission Pamphlet No. 4, "Working for the U. S. A."

A proposed constitution is being prepared for the merged association and will be submitted to members prior to the merger. Under terms of the factfinder report, Dr. Dawson would become associate executive secretary. The name of the new organization would be the North Carolina Association of Educators.

NCEA And NCTA To Merge

Merger of the Negro and white education associations in North Carolina is expected to be accomplished not later than July 1, 1970.

The white organization, the NCEA, has previously approved a merger plan submitted by a special factfinder. The NCTA has announced that it will vote on the same plan at a delegate assembly sometime during the first week in December. The NCTA had previously failed to approve the factfinder proposal.

In a joint statement released today, the NCEA and NCTA executive secretaries said the major issues dividing the two associations have largely been resolved. The statement came after a two-day meeting this past week-end which brought together the boards of directors of the two associations and the Joint Liaison Committee which has been working on the merger problem. The two executive secretaries said the two-day meeting was scheduled to clarify interpretations of the factfinder's report.

"I don't think there are any real disagreements remaining," Elliott Palmer, NCTA executive secretary, said after the meeting. He then announced that the NCTA would schedule a special delegate assembly in the first week of December to again vote on the factfinder's report. He said he expects the assembly to approve the plan.

Dr. A. C. Dawson, NCEA executive secretary, said that prior to the NCTA vote, the Joint Liaison Committee will be meeting to work out details concerning the actual merger. He also said that

TB Association Has New Executive Head

Officials of the Eastern Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association today announced the appointment of a Greenville woman as the new executive director of the 22 county organization.

Edward Davenport of Elizabeth City, president of the association, said Mrs. Ruth H. Peterson has been named to fill the executive director's post which was vacated last April by Mrs. Temple Clarke, Mrs. Peterson will assume her duties on Sept. 1 Davenport said.

In making the announcement, Davenport said, "We are looking forward to bringing Mrs. Peterson into our organization. She brings with her a wealth of experience in the public and voluntary health field, and she is highly qualified to meet the challenges that face the TB-RD Association in the years ahead. We are charged with the control of diseases such as emphysema, chronic bronchitis, asthma and other lung diseases; and we are still facing a major health problem with tuberculosis in our area."

He said the addition of Mrs. Peterson to the Eastern TB-RD staff would help to bring experience and know-how to the job of carrying out a total program of education in the twenty-two county area.

A native of Dunn, North Carolina, Mrs. Peterson has spent many years in the voluntary health field. She was formerly an Area Director for the North Carolina Division of the American Cancer Society, and her territory included the 22 counties that now make up the Eastern TB-RD Association.

She moved to Greenville in 1946 and was associated with Bell stores for several years. She served on the staff of the Medical Clinic in Greenville for 11 years and has been active in community health projects throughout the Eastern area.

Mrs. Peterson attended the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and the Greenville Business School. She is a member of Emanuel Baptist Church in Greenville, and she belongs to the Business and Professional Women's Club.

The office for the Eastern TB-RD Association is located in Greenville, and the program is carried to each of the 22 counties in the area. The association includes Beaufort, Bertie, Camden, Carteret, Chowan, Craven, Currituck, Dare, Gates, Greene, Hertford, Hyde, Jones, Lenoir, Martin, Northampton, Pamlico, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Pitt, Tyrrell and Washington.
