Don Juan Trainees Conclude Course

Charles Schneer, Don Juan Manager, observes as Daisy Wyles gives instructions to a student.

Twenty Trainees at the Don an Shirt Plant in Hertford, N. C. have just completed a training program which was specifically designed for the company.

After it was determined by company officials that the Don Juan Company would add another shift to the existing work schedule, Mr. Charles K. Shneer, Plant Manager, contacted officials at College of The Albertails marle to assist in developing the training program. Working closely with the Industrial Services Division of the Department of Community Colleges and with company executives, the College of The Albemarle made an analysis of skill requirements, ower needs, work schedules and the like, and formulated their needs into a curriculum.

Mrs. Alice Bond with the Employment Security Commission of rth Carolina, in Edenton, N.C. screened and tested prospective candidates to meet the company's job specifications. Only applicants displaying the required physical and mental qualifica-tions for the particular job were referred to the company for

Perguimans NFO Meets Friday Night

Who Can Give Blood?

elarity a question that is fre-quently raised, Just who can give blood?

Americans in good health can be blood donors until they reach age 56 instead of age 60 or 61 as in the past.

A joint announcement of this liberalisation of medical standards for blood was made on June 26 by the American National Red Cross in Washington, D. C. and by the American Association of Blood Banks in Chicago, The two organizations together collect and process 90 per cent of the more than 6,500.90 pints of blood used anymally for blood used annually for surgery and therapy in U. S. hospitals.

Dr. Tibor J. Greenwalt, medi-cal director of the American National Red Cross Blood Program, emphasized that any healthy person can give a pint of blood without worry, He said, "We have many donors who have given od without incident, Most of these are eager and able to continue giving. The change will permit them to do so except in jurisdictions where it is contrary to local regulations."

Dr. Frank Coleman of Tampa Florida, and president of the American Association of Blood Banks said, "This extension of the eligible age limit for blood donors is in recognition of two facts; first, that the need for blood is constantly increasing at a rate of about 12 per cent annually; second, thanks to better medical care, better nutrition and other factors, Americans are living longer and also keeping their health and vigor longer than in the past,"

Donors 66 years of age or over mder the new ARC and AABB policies, may continue to give blood if they obtain the written consent of their personal physician on the day of the donation.

Donors must be in good health have normal temperature, pulse and blood pressure, and meet the other requirements for blood donors, Individuals should check with their local Red Cross blood center or community or hospital blood bank relative to their eligibility to give blood,

State laws generally requir blood donors to be 21 years old or to have parental consent to give between 18 and 21, A number of states, including California Kansas, Washington, New York, Indiana, Oklahoma, Minnesota and Oregon, recently enacted leg-21 to give without parental consent. In some states those of this age who can give blood mus be self-supporting and living away from home. Both organizations have bloc clearing houses, permitting blood given locally to be credited to patients in other cities and areas with surplus blood to aid those where it is short, Exchanges between the two clearing house system are made possible under a joint interorganizational agreement signed between the ARC and

The Bloodmobile will be in Hertford, Monday, October 6, from 12:00 noon till 7:00 p.m. Our quota this time is 80 pints, PLEASE HELP US HELP.
