

Engagement Announced

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED - Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. Atnes of Hamden, Connecticut have the pleasure of announcing the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Janet of Carmel, California to Mr. Earl Worcester Dunsmoor, Jr. of Los Angeles, California. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Earl W. Dunsmoor, 206 Woodland Circle, Hertford and the late Maj. Dunsmoor, USMC (Ret.). Miss Atnes is a graduate of Albertus Magnus College, New Haven, Connecticut. She taught in New Haven and is now teaching in Pacific Grove, California. Mr. Dunsmoor was graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland and served in the U.S. Navy. He is now associated with Container Corporation of America, Los Angeles. A June 27th wedding in Connecticut is planned.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

Walls, windows and floors are the background for your decorating. They are as important as furniture, perhaps more important. Walls and windows create the type atmosphere you want. Their height, staidness and formality, or quaintness and informality, set the theme of a room.

Smaller houses and smaller rooms demand that we make our walls work for us by holding the added conveniences of built-in furniture, shallow closets, drop-leaf desks and the like.

Scenic wallpapers, or those in scenic effect, are among the most beautiful and formal of wall decorations. They were first used to replace mural decorations and have gradually become a definite type.

Floral wallpapers in delicate colors are lively in bedrooms. The light, airy prints are particularly lovely for a young girl's room.

Painted walls of a solid color in varying tones from light to putty, cream, rose and blue are used as backgrounds. Figured rugs and draperies give pattern to this room.

Paneling is popular in an informal room, and even for modern kitchens. Jacobean paneling of oak or mahogany is beautiful for the more formal homes. In such rooms, draperies may be a rich damask in yellow or red or a hand-blocked Jacobean figure.

PER-CO-HI SPECTATOR

Now that PCHS is well into its second semester, a few clubs and activities are experiencing major changes. After tryouts, the debaters and alternates were recently chosen from the Debate Club, thus marking the starting point for much future work. Unusual this year was the fact that no seniors tried out for the team. Negative debaters are Mackey Lewis and Michael Walker, and affirmative debaters are Woody Bundy and Wallace Nelson. Alternates are Ellen Long, Bobby Hollowell, and Archie Blanchard.

Production of the Senior Play is another activity which has gone into full swing. Under the direction of William Byrum, seniors are now trying out for parts in "Up the Down Staircase". The play promises to be a good one.

In order to raise money to finance the Junior-Senior Prom, the entire junior class, along with the chosen waiters and waitresses from the sophomore class, recently sold bottles of all-purpose cleaner, and received a profit of $70 with each bottle sold. Their quota was achieved. The Junior-Senior committee, headed by Mr. Hyman, has selected a theme for the event.

While these activities have much work ahead of them, one club is completing its year's work. In the very near future, the annual staff will meet its deadline for the final shipment of annual pages to be sent off.

The Student Council has selected delegates to attend the Eastern District North Carolina Student Council Convention in Wilmington, on March 14. They are: Johnny Caddy, Brant Murray, Charlie Harrell, Susan Humphlett, and Peggy Griffin. The council is now making plans for a regional workshop of student councils to be held in Hertford on March 6.

The Beta Club is making plans to attend the District Beta Convention, to be held in the Casino at Nag's Head on March 4.

On Tuesday of last week, the Perquimans Indians met Northhampton at a Hertford game. The Indians played a good offensive game. They scored more points in this game than in any other this year. Despite this, however, the Indians were defeated by a score of 69 to 95. Our boys were hindered by our defensive playing and by Gary Rouse fouling out in the third quarter. Northhampton obtained an early lead and maintained a fast tempo. They defeated the Indians by controlling the offensive boards. C. J. Stalling was the high scorer of Perquimans with 21 points.

The Squaws were also defeated by Northhampton, with the score 34 to 42. The Northhampton girls pulled ahead in the first quarter with the score 12 to 19, and the Squaws could not recover. Leading the Squaws was Betty Murray with an outstanding 21 points. Following Betty were Gail Watson with 6, Peggy White with 4, and Gaby Baker with 3.

Dairymen Set Raleigh Meeting

Production and marketing problems will be among the topics discussed Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 18-19, at the Dairymen's Conference at North Carolina State University, Raleigh.

Tar Heel dairymen will hear talks on major areas of concern from state and national dairy industry leaders.

Headquarters for the conference, which begins on Feb. 18 with 8:30 a.m. registration, will be the N. C. State Faculty Club the first day and the Hilton Inn the second day.

In addition to NCSU scientists, speakers appearing on the program will include Glenn Lake of Detroit, Mich., president of Michigan Milk Producers; W. Clark Fleming Jr., president and manager of Bayville Farms, Virginia Beach, Va.; Dr. Dale H. Carley of the University of Georgia Department of Agricultural Economics; and Ford Brendle, N. C. State Board of Health.

Norman Sloan, NCSU basketball coach, will speak at a luncheon on Thursday.

Among the topics to be discussed during the conference are improving milk quality, cost of producing milk in N. C., reproductive efficiency, feeding topics, calculating best feed buys, producing dairy beef and dairying in the 1970's, along with summary presentations on 'conditions of the state and national dairy industries.'

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to everyone who remembered me while I was in the hospital and since my return home.

Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered.

Recipe of the Week

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

What shall we have for dinner is a question which disturbs many women who are concerned with feeding the family. Try serving a main dish meal, plus a fresh, crisp salad and a fruit dessert.

Chicken Creole Casserole

1 to 3 lb. chicken cut in serving pieces
1/4 c. flour
1 t. salt
1/2 t. pepper
2 T. fat
3/4 c. chopped onions
1 1/2 c. canned tomatoes
2 sprigs parsley chopped
1 bay leaf
1 clove garlic chopped fine
1/2 t. thyme
1 c. condensed canned consommé
5 peeled potatoes

Dip pieces of chicken in flour which has been mixed with salt and pepper. Brown lightly in hot fat. Arrange in a greased 3 quart casserole. Cook onion in remaining fat until golden brown. Add to chicken. Add tomatoes, parsley, bay leaf, garlic, thyme, and consommé. Cover, bake in an oven 350 degrees until tender from 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Add potatoes last 35 minutes of cooking.

Smart shops are showing bathing suits for resorts and for summer wear and the bikini is being considered passe. One piece suits are the favorites. An indication of this was evidenced earlier in Europe. Stretch nylons in stripes or figures are being used.

Stripes, geometric figures and bold prints are seen on spring dresses. Black and white is a favorite combination. A spot of color, such as a red or green hat or scarf can give a dash to a dress of this sort.

SAFER CLOTHING

Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans has ordered a notice placed in the Federal Register indicating that new or revised standards of flammability may be established for children's sleepwear, underwear and dresses. Data gathered by government agencies has shown that children under 6 years of age are injured more frequently from clothing fires than most other age groups.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my appreciation to everyone who remembered me with cards, visits, gifts and especially the prayers while I was a patient in Leigh Memorial Hospital. Also for the good doctors and nurses, I say thank you so much.
May God bless each of you.
