John Piland Injured In Accident

Dallas Mayo Collins, 23, a New Haven Conn. man was jailed shortly after noon last Thursday when he crashed into two autos, demolishing both, and was captured in a foot race by one of the drivers and held for police. It was reported.

According to information Collins drove his auto out of the Albemarle Lanes parking lot on south Hughes Blvd. in Elizabeth City and crashed into the right side of an automobile being driven south by Robert E. Rice, 44, of Greensboro.

Rice told police Collins fled in his auto, and that he pursued in his car. Rice said Collins turned from the southbound lane on U.S. 17 at the Northeastern High School intersection, crossed the median strip, and slammed into a northbound car being driven by John E. Piland, 63, of Hertford. The Piland car was knocked 32 feet across another portion of the median strip and Collins' car stopped near the point of impact.

Native of Perquimans 1970 Farm Family of S.C.

The Sidney T. Layden, Jr., family of Bamberg County, Ehrhardt, S.C. son of Mrs. M. S. Cridin of Elizabeth City and the late Sidney T. Layden of Perquimans County has been selected the State Farmer of the year.

The Laydens were honored at a banquet in Columbia, S.C. with 485 guests present. Sixteen prominent Agriculture and Government leaders including U.S. Senator Strom Thurman, Congressman Floyd Spence, and F.H.A. administrator James V. Smith were present for the honoring of the Laydens.

The 1970 competition is the first of a proposed annual search for a National F.H.A. farm family of the year.

As winner of the County District and State Contest, the Laydens are not being entered in a competition for the 1970 National award.

Sidney Layden is married to Eva Russell of Hertford, N.C. They have three sons. Sidney Layden III, 16, James, 15; and Robert 12.

The boys own 3 Quarter Horses and have won several blue ribbons and trophies, for Horsemanship.

The Laydens raise corn, soybeans, and has the largest peanut allotment in Bamberg county. They have feeder pigs and cows on the farm.

In addition to participation in local community activities, the entire family is active in all organizations of the Ehrhardt Southern Methodist Church.

To The Voters Of Town Of Hertford . . .

Dear friends:

As you know four years ago I announced my candidacy for the office of Mayor for the Town of Hertford. Through your support and confidence I achieved this position.

I have worked earnestly to make our town a better place to live. I hoped that I could have done more, but time is very short in one term when projects are started and ideas fall short of time to complete.

I urge all voters of the town of Hertford to come to the polls and vote next Tuesday, May 4, and when you mark your ballot I will sincerely appreciate you considering me for reelection for your Mayor..

Sincerely,
Emmett Landing
