Housing Seminar To Begin Jan. 11th

A Housing Seminar will be held on Tuesday, January 11 at 7 P.M. at the Perquimans County Office Building. The 5 sessions will continue on January 18 and 25 and February 1 and 8. The Seminar will be sponsored jointly by Chowan and Perquimans Counties Extension Service in order to reach prospective home builders or those remodeling with current information on availability of credit, selecting materials, plans and sites, and to help answer questions on many phases of home building. "The objectives of the five sessions," states Mrs. Paige Underwood, Home Economics Extension Agent, are to reach all income levels of prospective home builders in both counties; to help homeowners realize the importance of planning and analyzing their family needs before building; to help the people to become aware of assistance and materials available through Extension and other agencies; and to better acquaint many agencies and businesses of overall problems in housing, enabling them to work co-operatively toward solving these problems. On January 11, the topic will be "Sources of Credit". A panel of representatives from Loan Association, Banks, and F.H.A. will discuss loans and interest rates.

On January 18, "Selection of Plans and Sites" will be discussed by Mr. W.C. Warrick, Extension Housing Specialist from N.C. State University. Mr. Warrick will give points to consider in room arrangement or floor plan; location;

drainage or elevation of lot; and orientation for summer breeze, shade, sun, and view. January 25: there will be a two phase program including "Relationship of Homeowner, Builder and Contractor" and "Architectural Styles". "Both Topics are very important," states Mrs. Underwood, and Mrs. Charlotte Womble, Housing Specialist, N. State University, and Mr. Richard Bryant, Perquimans County Extension Chairman, will be leading the discussion.

Please check the Perquimans Weekly for classes in February which will include a tour to a Building Supplier and detailed sessions on Bathrooms, Kitchens, Heating and Cooling. There is no charge for the public to attend.

Please call the County Office Building to register for one or all classes.

Perquimans Recreation Potential Booklet

Published By S & W Committee

A publication, "The Potential For Outdoor Recreation In Perquimans County" has recently been completed. This publication has been compiled as a result of appraising the potential for eleven kinds of outdoor recreation in Perquimans County.

This information should be useful for local planning by state, county, and city governments, planning commissions, water boards, and promotion agencies, and for publicizing and promoting outdoor recreation in the county.

The Soil Conservation Service compiled the information with the cooperative efforts of many agencies and organizations. They are as follows: North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission; Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service; Perquimans County Historical Society; Perquimans County Industrial Development Commission; Perquimans County Board of Commissioners; North Carolina Extension Service; and the Perquimans County Soil and Water Conservation Committee.

Water quality classification was furnished by the North Carolina Department of Water and Air Resources.

This publication was published by the Perquimans County Soil and Water Conservation Committee.

In addition to the potential for eleven kinds of outdoor recreation, this publication contains: data on local and distant urban centers; all weather roads; rural ownership and land use; weather data; a general soils map of county with soil interpretations; a list of Historic sites with map showing location of each site; a list of the streams in the county with water quality classification; and an information sheet on wildlife habitat.

Anyone who would like a copy of this publication may obtain one from the local Soil Conservation Service office in the Agricultural Building.

Electronics Course

Army Staff Sergeant Riley W. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. (Bill) Alfonzo H. Williams, Route 1, Hertford, N.C., recently completed an electronics specialists course at the Army Signal School, Ft. Monmouth, N.J.

During the course the student was trained to operate and maintain various kinds of army electronic equipment.

The 27-year-old soldier is a 1962 graduate of Perquimans County High School, Hertford, N.C.

His wife, Delores, lives at 316 Pinebrook Road, Eatontown, N.J.

the Board of Directors of the Perquimans County Restoration Association a color slide program has been assembled for the information of the people of Perquimans County and the area generally on Restoration and Preservation.

The ancient features of the Newbold-White House (c. 1684) and the Theophilus White House (c. 1700) will be shown as examples of how old houses are dated. Such things as the color of the paint, the type of nails, the pattern and type of bricks, the cut and pattern of the wood, etc. will be examined.

A number of showings in the area have been scheduled, the first being on Sunday afternoon, January 9th, at 3:00 p.m. for the Membership and their guest of the Museum of the Albemarle at the Museum. Other showings scheduled to date include each of the Homemakers Clubs in Perquimans County, The Hertford Rotary Club, The Hertford Lions Club, The Perquimans County Historical Society, The Elizabeth City Garden Club and others until all of the groups in the area who are interested have seen, heard and asked questions.

The series will be presented by the Rev. Edwin T. Williams, Executive Director of the Perquimans County Restoration Association. The Rev. Mr. Williams, although comparatively new to Northeastern North Carolina, is not new to restoration and preservation. He has been associated with this type of activity in Virginia, Kentucky and South Carolina before coming to Hertford where he is Rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity.

Michael Allen Walker Nominated Candidate To Police Air Force

Michael Allen Walker, seventeen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Walker of Durants Neck has been informed that he has been nominated as a candidate to the United States Air Force Academy.

Walker received the following letter from Walter B. Jones, Congressman from the 1st District. Congressman Jones said, "I would like to inform you that I have on this date nominated you as a candidate to the United States Air Force Academy. Within a few days you will receive direct communication from the Academy with further information.

I wish you every success in the examination required for your acceptance."

Bloodmobile Collects Sixty Pints Of Blood

Sixty pints of blood were collected at the visit of the Tidewater Bloodmobile in Hertford on Wednesday at the First Methodist Church, according to Mrs. Nathan Sawyer, Red Cross Blood Chairman. Quota for the visit was 100 pints. Mrs. Sawyer stated that seventy four people presented themselves as prospective donors but ten were rejected due to different reasons. Although disappointed that the quota was not met, Mrs. Sawyer expressed her appreciation to those who did come to donate their blood.

She expressed her appreciation and thanks to the following people who helped her with this visit: Mrs. Maude Jones, Mrs. Mattie Matthews, Mrs. Helen Winslow, Mrs. Laura Sutton, Mrs. Dorothy Owens, Mrs. Ann Copeland, Mrs. Fern Simmerson and Mrs. Lessie White.

Mrs. Ruth Baker Makes Preparations For Reception At Chowan College

Mrs. Ruth Baker, head resident in Jenkins Hall, a facility housing 100 Chowan College coeds, lights the last candle in making final preparations for a reception hosted by Jenkins Hall girls for guests, students, and panelists participating in a two-day conference on "The Professional - A Woman."

The Conference was planned by the Department of Student Personnel and directed by Vickie J. Tolston, associate dean of students, to motivate Chowan coeds toward professional careers.

The program consisted of four panel discussions conducted by 12 professional women who, according to Dean Tolston, "are in touch with our time." Program personalities included legislators from North and South Carolina, television personalities, a psychologist, an author, Miss North Carolina, two educators, a curriculum director and a supervisor, a representative from the Women's Bureau, Washington, D.C., and a Raleigh dermatologist.

Coeds and guests were given opportunities to ask panelists questions and give their reactions during question and answer periods and at reception times which followed each panel discussion.

Chowan College is a coed, comprehensive liberal arts junior college and is considered among the top five per cent of junior colleges in the Eastern States. The 1964 student body, whom 500 are women, at Chowan represent 100 and eight foreign countries.

Walter Jones To Speak At AADA Meeting Jan. 13

U.S. Rep. Walter B. Jones of Farmville (D-NC) will speak at the regular monthly meeting of Albemarle Area Development Association to be held in Edenton Thursday, January 13. The meeting will begin at 7 P.M. at Edenton Restaurant here.

L.F. Amburn, Jr., AADA president, said he is especially pleased that Rep. Jones has agreed to speak at the first meeting of the new year. "I feel the appearance of a man who has demonstrated such a keen interest in the total development of Northeastern North Carolina will set the tone for a banner year for this organization," the president stated. He pointed out that space at the restaurant will be limited and those who desire to attend should make reservations with their AADA chairman in their respective county.
