Chowan Academy To Be In Spelling Bee

Chowan Academy was invited to participate in the Ledger-Star Spelling Bee along with other schools in the Tidewater area and Northeastern North Carolina. The Spelling Bee is open to Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, and Eighth Grade students in the following counties in Virginia and North Carolina: Virginia: Accomack, Green-ville, Isle of Wight, Nan-semond, Northampton, Southampton, Surry, Sussex; North Carolina: Beaufort, Bertie, Camden, Chowan, Currituck, Dare, Gates, Halifax, Hertford, Hyde, Martin, Northampton, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Tyrrell, Washington. The following separate city systems were invited: Virginia: Chesapeake, Hampton, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Suffolk, Virginia Beach; North Carolina: Edenton, Elizabeth City and Washington.

Last year, approximately 70,000 students from more than 200 schools participated. The Spelling Bee is designed to help boys and girls develop spelling skills, increase their vocabularies and develop correct dictionary usage.

Chowan Academy's school champion is Gary Byrum, an eighth grade student. Gary is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Isaac Byrum, Jr. of Tynes. Raymond Chappell, a sixth grade student, is school alternate. Raymond is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Maynard Chappell of Hobbsville.

On April 22 the school champion goes to Norfolk to compete in the Tidewater Area Semi-Finals. The top fifteen spellers from this contest will compete in the Ledger-Star championship Spelling Bee Finals to be televised over WTRF-TV, Channel 3 on April 29. Then the week of June 5, the winner from the Norfolk contest will compete in the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D. C.

Congratulations to Gary and Raymond, and Good Luck!!

Perq. Chamber Sponsors Wedding

Here comes the bride! She was pretty, especially in the wedding dress she made herself.

The groom was in Navy blues. She was Brenda Kay Shoemaker of Greensboro. He is Boiler Technician 3.C. Randall Glen Calhoun of Newcomers-town, O.

She is 18. He is 21. Both are two of the nicest people you could ever meet.

They were married last week at the First United Methodist Church here in Hertford, by Rev. G. J. Andrews who described the young couple as "two very fine people" and the ceremony as "one of the most unusual I've ever performed."

Unusual because the church wedding took place before about 30 people, all strangers to the young couple; unusual because the Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce acted as best man.

Why? Just to show that 99 per cent of the people in this neck of the woods are nice, that they enjoy helping others, showing kindness.

It was all done on a beautiful, sunny day, the culmination of a month of correspondence and telephone calls.

It began with a letter from Brenda asking about marriage laws in this state and the possibility of getting her in touch with a preacher who could perform the ceremony on a moment's notice - necessary because Dennis was not sure, until the last moment, when he could get off the ship - the frigate Belknap - and come down for the ceremony.

Plans had been made for a big wedding, and that's why Brenda had made her wedding dress. But the two families lived so far apart - and the Navy allowed so little time - and the arrangements began getting so complex - that the couple decided to get married near Norfolk, where they would live after the Belknap came back to the area (due to return today).

Letters were written to 13 different counties, but ours was chosen because we sounded friendly and interested.

After final arrangements were made, only a couple of days prior to the ceremony, Randy drove Brenda straight down here, non-stop.

They took a couple rooms at the Holiday Inn in Elizabeth City and, by the way, wouldn't even let the Chamber pay for them. Chamber Manager Frank Roberts took them around for blood tests and physicals and all the et-ceteras, which they paid for - even buying breakfast for everyone.

Since it was our idea, not theirs, to sponsor the ceremony here, we did want to have a nice reception. It included a cake, favors, and a gift of a silver platter inscribed with their names and the date they were married here in Hertford.

After it was all over, they packed their little station wagon for a honeymoon and, to go up to Norfolk to find a place to live. Money is something they are not starting out with much of - everything they own is packed in their vehicle - but love - they have plenty of.

And the feeling spread to all who came in contact with them.

DECA Slates Meeting

Nearly a thousand outstanding high school students will meet in Raleigh March 17 and 18 for the annual State Leadership Conference of the North Carolina Association of Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA).

Participating in the conference will be students from Perquimans.

The students will take part in contests for public speaking, advertising, sales demonstration, Miss DECA and DE Student of the Year.

While in Raleigh the distributive education students will tour several businesses and industries including Southern Bell Telephone, WRAL-TV, Wachovia Bank, Dillon Supply Company, WPTF Radio Station, and Cameron Village. Tours have been arranged for the North Carolina Legislative Building, the State Archives Building, and the Museum of Natural History and Art.

DECA is the youth activities organization for distributive education students in the state's high schools. Distributive education is a program designed for juniors and seniors which teaches marketing functions in our free enterprise system.

Knitting Offered At COA

A course in "Knitting," coordinated by the Adult Education Division of College of The Albemarle, will be offered on Wednesdays at 7 to 10 p.m., from March 15 through May 31 in the main building on Riverside Avenue, in Room 327.

The instructor for the 36 hour course will be Mrs. Rufus Jackson, a member of the Albemarle Craftsman Guild.

A registration fee of $2.00 will be charged. Registration will be at the first class meeting on a first-come, first-served basis.

Card of Thanks

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to all friends, relatives and neighbors, for the many cards, visits, flowers and other acts of kindness shown to me while I was a patient in the Albemarle Hospital and since my return home.

Eager Beavers 4-H Club Meet

The Eager Beaver 4-H Club held their March meeting recently at the home of Sherry and Charles Mims. Debbie Lane, president, called the meeting to order. David Eure led the members in saying the pledges to the flags. The devotion was given by Beverly Eure. She read scripture from the book of Revelations, after which prayer was offered by Cathy Newberry.

During the business session secretary, Beverly Eure, read the minutes of the February meeting, which were approved. Roll call was taken with 15 members present. Duties for the April meeting were then assigned. Sherie Williams, treasurer, gave the monthly treasury report. The meeting was adjourned after the members enjoyed singing several songs led by Cathy Newberry.
