National Library Week April 16-22

Perquimans High School and the rest of the U.S. will be observing National Library Week April 16-22. The slogans this year are "Reading Makes the World Go Round" and "You've Got a Right to Read".

Two projects will be promoted at P.C.H.S. during National Library Week. A book-mark contest will give the students a chance to use their artistic ability, focus their attention on books, and at the same time win prizes.

A survey will be made in grades 10, 11, and 12 dealing with the best book that each student has ever read. The journalism class will be asked to tabulate the results which will be reported to the N.C. State Library.

Jack Robertson "Creel's" Manager In Perquimans

W.C. "Billy" Creel, Democratic party candidate for Commissioner of Labor in the primary election on May 6, today named twenty county managers and three county co-managers for twenty-two counties of North Carolina.

Creel State Headquarters in Raleigh, in a release mailed to all North Carolina news media sources, announced the Creel campaign officials for the twenty-two counties.

Those named were W.R. Waters, Sampson; Chester C. Kilpatrick, Transylvania; H.H. "Bud" Williamson, Cumberland; Al Wullenwaber, Harnett; Steve Wilder, Wake; Nick Kale, Catawba; James A. Webster, Chatham; Scott Shepherd, Robeson; Cecil L. McCoy, Bertie; Z.D. "Jack" Robertson, Jr., Perquimans; J.C. Dawkins, Randolph; G.E. Small, Jr., Pasquotank; Lawrence Ponder, Madison; Allen Askew, Gates; R.V. "Bobby" Owens, Dare; Allen Williams, Duplin; W.H. "Shorty" McDonald, Polk; A.L. Hollowell, Chowan; John Dickenson, Surry; and Jim Parrish for Macon.

In its second year in the new library building, P.C.H.S. has had many books and audio-visual aids added; it is truly a multi-media center to foster the learning process. Many books from Perquimans Union School have been processed and added to the library collection. Hundreds of supplementary books have been processed and moved to the general collection area so that they are more easily available to students as well as to the teachers.

Magazines are very popular with the students, for recreational reading and for reference material. Magazines which are indexed in the Reader's Guide are kept on file for five years. It is hoped that in the near future a microfilm reader and microfilms of the most used magazines may be added to the library.

A word of praise should be given to the library assistants: Paulette Mallory, Terry Copeland, Celestine Garrett, Cheryl Phillips, Donna Wilkins, Frances White, Janet Spivey, Gloria Banks, Debbie Perry, Marcheta Perry, Betty Jo Nowell, and Penny Crown.

County-Wide Religious Celebration To Be Held

Perquimans County churches continue to notify the Chamber of Commerce that they will participate in the county-wide religious celebration to be held in Hertford on Sunday morning May 7 at 11:30.

The services commemorate the first religious service on record in North Carolina. That was 300 years ago. The meeting was held by William Edmundson, an English Friend, in May, 1672.

Music will be supplied by a combined mens choir representing the two Quaker meeting houses in the county - Piney Woods and Up River.

In addition to participation by those churches, members of the following will also take part in the ceremony: Bethany Methodist Church, Anderson Methodist Church, Bethel Baptist Church, Great Hope Baptist Church, Parksville Holiness Church, Hertford Baptist Church, Hertford United Methodist Church, Church of the Holy Trinity.

If the church you attend has not yet responded, please talk to your pastor about this celebration which we hope will be both inspirational, as well as an important historical event.

Many of our state leaders have been invited. Those who have said they would attend so far are 1st District Rep. Walter B. Jones and 1st District State Sen. J.J. (Monk) Harrington.

Guest Missionary Speakers To Be At Piney Woods Friends Church

Piney Woods Friends Church will have guest missionary speakers for an evening service on Wednesday, April 19, at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Jim Fasold and his wife Carolyn shall speak to the church on their work in Spain. They are both graduates of Columbia Bible College in Columbia, South Carolina, and have been in Spain for the last four years. Their work consists of church planting and Christian music through radio broadcasting. The pastor, Rev. Larry McEntire, cordially invites the public to attend this special service.

Supports Clean Water Bond Referendum

The Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce is continuing to urge area voters to look with favor, when they enter the booth on May 6, on the $150 million Clean Water Bond referendum.

For those whose sole concern is their pocketbook this reminder. While we benefit from this there will be no cost to the local taxpayer, or on a statewide basis.

The money for water and sewage improvements will come from the sale of bonds.

But the important thing to consider are the benefits.

The money will be used in this county, and elsewhere, for water pollution abatement and control, better and cleaner sewage facilities.

The bonds will provide the funds to the local governments involved to provide cleaner streams, to insure adequate and safe water supplies, to provide more areas for water recreation, to improve fish and wildlife values and to enhance the beauty of the landscape.

The bond money will mean the state can pay about 25 per cent of the cost of the project, the rest of the money can be obtainable from federal funds, some locally.

Perquimans County is eligible for $120,000. Of that amount $80,000 will be for water, the rest for sewer.

For those reasons, the Chamber of Commerce is urging an affirmative vote on May 6 for the referendum on Clean Water bonds.

Local Students Practice Teaching

Intern teachers from East Carolina University are currently involved in practice teaching at schools throughout North Carolina and Virginia.

Five students of early childhood education are practicing teaching in a Birmingham, England, experimental kindergarten.

They are Georgia Phillips of Morehead City, Leigh Otey of Charlotte, Debra Ann Hooper of Raleigh, and Phyllis Brooks and Laura Klarpp of Jacksonville.

Through a special arrangement made by the ECU School of Education, the five students are serving as intern teachers in Birmingham's Rookery Road Junior School, whose kindergarten is operated according to the new "open classrooms" system.

Each of the 377 student teachers from ECU will conduct regular classes under the direction of a supervisor and will receive a grade for his performance.

May Clean-Up And Paint-Up Month

May has been designated as clean-up and paint-up month by Hertford Mayor Bill Cox. But instead of signing a proclamation to that affect, he decided to dramatize what he means. So broom in hand he does some sweeping up on Church Street. How about you? Is there an area in your neighborhood that could look much nicer if it were much cleaner? Think about it - better still, do something about it. The Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce urges you to clean up and paint up in May.

Board Of Directors To Meet Monday

The Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will hold its monthly meeting Monday night in the Municipal Building.

Please note the change in time. The meeting will start at 8 p.m. rather than 7:30 p.m.

One of the major items of discussion will concern the forthcoming religious celebration which, as you will note from an article elsewhere in the paper, is coming along very well.
