New Boating Regulations

The North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission reminds you that under the authority of the Federal Boat Safety Act of 1971, the Coast Guard has established a new regulation requiring the use of Coast Guard approved lifesaving devices on all boats after April 17, 1972. The new regulation revises the present lifesaving device requirements and calls for the use of PFS's (personal flotation devices) on all boats including powered boats, canoes, sailboats, rowboats, and poled, paddled or towed recreational boats while on waters under the jurisdiction of the United States. Under the new regulation no person may use a boat less than 40 feet long unless there is at least one of the following on board for each person:

1. Life preserver
  2. Ring life buoy
  3. Special purpose water safety buoyant device
  4. Buoyant vest
  5. Buoyant cushion
- No person may use a boat that is 40 feet or more but less than 65 feet in length unless there is at least one of the following on board for each person:
1. Life preserver
  2. Ring life buoy
- No person may use a boat that is 65 feet long or longer unless there is at least one life preserver on board for each person.

NO ARMS ALLOWED
Pueblo, Colo. - According to Police Regulations of the City Ordinances, it is now illegal to sell any device "designed to expel a projectile by the action of compressed air or gas or by the action of a spring or elastic" to "anyone under the age of 18." Slingshots and airguns are now illegal weapons.

REVOCABLE TRUSTS

May a person create a trust whereby he is himself to receive the income therefrom for life and then upon his death the property is to be continued to be held in trust for other named persons?

Yes. There is no legal objection to the creator of a trust designating himself the sole beneficiary of a trust for as long as he lives and then continuing it in the name of others as beneficiaries.

The particular trust is an assurance that the creator will derive income from the property during his lifetime and relieves him of the burdens and worries of management of the same during the sunset years of his life.

Having disposed of the particular property or money during his lifetime to a trustee, it does not exist for purposes of disposition at his death by virtue of a will or the intestate succession laws.

May the creator of the trust subsequently revoke or amend the terms of the above trust?

He may if he has expressly reserved the power to do so in the trust instrument. In the absence of an express provision, the creator of a trust cannot revoke or alter the terms of a trust.

If the value of the trust estate is sizeable, it is frequently not tax-wise to reserve the power to revoke or amend the trust instrument. A saving in federal estate taxes and state inheritance taxes is often effected if a trust is created during the lifetime of the creator and a power to revoke and amend is not inserted.

On the other hand, the taxes on even a revocable and amendable trust made during one's lifetime costs no more than does a trust set up in a will.

A trust created by a person during his lifetime is generally considered as having many advantages over a trust created under the terms of a will.

+++++

May a testator in his will add additional property to a trust which he has created during his lifetime?

Lions Auxiliary Cooking School

The Elizabeth City Lions Auxiliary's Cooking School, sponsored by the Elizabeth City Dept. of Public Utilities, will be Wednesday, April 26 at the Carolina Theatre. There will be two sessions, 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. At the morning session an Electric Range will be given away as the grand prize and at the night session a Frost-free Up-right Freezer will be given away. Hundreds of small gifts that are donated by the Elizabeth City Merchants will also be given away. You do not have to be present to win. Sanford Aydielt will be master of ceremonies. The cooking will be done by Mrs. Phyllis West assisted by Miss Mary Kay Seaford.

Yes. This can be done in respect to even a revocable and amendable trust, which he has previously established in writing prior to his death.

If the terms of the trust are amended after the execution of the will, the additional property or money "poured" into the trust fund will be administered by the trustee in accordance with the terms of the trust as they appeared in writing at the time of the testator's death. The trust need not be amended in the manner required by the law of wills.

A testator may by will "pour" additional property or money into an existing written trust which has been established by others, including a charitable trust.
