At its recent Board of Directors meeting, the Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce agreed that the issue of the clean water bond vote referendum, scheduled for May 6, was important enough for he Chamber to continue its campaign to ask people to vote affirmatively.

Chamber Manager Frank Roberts pointed out that both Democratic and Republican nominees, during their campaign swings around the state, have urged Tarheels to vote in favor of the issue.

When it comes up for a vote it will mean we all have the opportunity to take an active part in improving our environment because the money will be used to construct needed water supply and sanitary sewer

Much of the money for that work will come from the sale of bonds by the state - there will be no increase locally or statewide so far as taxes are concerned.

This money will be vitally ecessary to Perquimans and all counties in North Carolina because none can foot the bill alone. As a 'bonus' we will also be eligible for additional federal grants for water pollution control projects - but only if the vote is approved. For those reasons, the Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce is urging you to support the cause of clean water and a better environment.

Bethel Ruritan Club Emergency Communication System To Cost $216,000

A group of mayors and county commission chairmen from various parts of Northeastern North Carolina were told in Edenton Tuesday afternoon that a proposed emergency communication system for the 10-county area would cost in the neighborhood of $216,000. The study and estimate was made by Motorola Corporation at the request of the Communications Committee of Albemarle Area Development Association.

Mike Worthington, specialist in emergency service communication, said the proposal included continued use of existing equipment. "For an average of $21,600 per county you would have one of the most effective and efficient systems anywhere," he said.

At the heart of the Motorola plan is a central dispatcher for each county. Now as many as five dispatchers are at work in a county. He said this alone would result in considerable savings. The plan also calls for base and mobile encoding equipment as well as a communication channel for Region "R"-the 10county Northeastern area.

Ask Financial Support To COA

The Perguimans County Chamber of Commerce voted, at its last meeting, to write a letter of support in behalf of the College of the Albemarle, to the Chowan County missioners.

That is the only county, of those served by the junior college, that has balked at giving financial support to COA. But if Chowan does not, none can, except for Pasquotank.

The commissioners there have already said they could not afford to foot the bill by themselves. Each county is being asked to contribute solely on the basis of population. COA President, Dr. S. Bruce Petteway said that under the circumstances, it was feasible that the area could lose the twoyear institution, described by Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce Vice-President Marion Swindell as, "one of the greatest assets this area has ever had.'

The Chamber's Board of Directors also went on record as asking other organizations and individuals to write to Chowan officials, as Edenton's own Chamber of Commerce, and the Jaycees there, have already
