Delivery Of Absentee Ballots Top Priority

The United States Postal Service will give top priority to the delivery of absentee ballots from members of the armed forces around the world as well as to those civilians within the continental United States who will be voting through the mail.

"We will get the ballots to the polls on time," was the word from John J. Wise, Greensboro District Manager USPS.

Wise said that he had been in communication with both the North and South Carolina, would make a special effort to see to it that the absentee ballots would reach their proper destination on time.

The deadline in North and South Carolina State Board of Elections and as a result, postal employees under his jurisdiction in all of North Carolina and part of South Carolina, would make a special effort to see to it that the absentee ballots would reach their proper destination on time.

The deadline in North Carolina for the delivery of the ballots is November 4, 12 noon, for civilian ballots; military ballots, 12 noon, November 7, according to Alex Brock, Executive Secretary to the State Board of Elections.

In South Carolina the ballots must be at their destination by November 7, 7:00 p.m.; according to James Ellis, Director of State Electors.

However, Wise stated, "We can't deliver the ballots unless they are mailed early enough to reach our domestic postal system. Although most are being airlifted by the Armed Services from around the globe, we hope they will get to the states in time for the postal service to make prompt delivery."

"Catfish" Hunter Day Success

In spite of the foul weather, Jim "Catfish" Hunter Day was a huge success. No doubt, the Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, Tom Brown and the Town of Hertford scored a home run in their efforts.

No low balls, curves or sliders were thrown and "Catfish" was put on first with a key to the Town.

Charlie Skinner, Jr.'s parade was a hit, band and all, in spite of wet ground.

The stands were packed, the bleachers filled to capacity and the fish fry a complete sell-out.

Mayor Bill Cox had only praise for those that promoted the event as well as those who participated. He was quoted as saying that, "I appreciate all the efforts by all persons concerned that really put their hearts into making Jim "Catfish" Hunter Day a real success."

More Funds Needed To Reach Goal

R. L. Stevenson, Chairman of the Finance Committee for the Perquimans County Restoration Association, announced today that an additional $5754.00 is needed to successfully complete Perquimans County's drive to raise $17,500. The drive ends at 6 P.M. on November 15 and if the total subscription, is not raised, Perquimans County stands to lose a $25,000 grant from the North Carolina Legislature, a $7,500 grant from the National Park Service and $5,000 from the Smith-Richardson Foundation.

Currently, 202 pledges have been received from various businesses and individuals. This includes a great number of Memorial Gifts. Thirty per cent of the funds totaling $3,496 have come from outside the County and seventy per cent totaling $8,250 have been raised locally, making a total to date of $11,746.

Stevenson stated that pledges of $100 each from 57 additional families would make this campaign a success. The funds will be used on the Newbold-White House Project to preserve, for future generations, North Carolina's oldest house.

Those desiring to make pledges, in any amount, may do so by sending the pledge to Mr. Stevenson at Peoples Bank or to any member of the Perquimans County Restoration Association.

If the total goal of $17,500 is pledged prior to 6 P.M. November 15, 1972, those who pledge will be asked to make payment to the Restoration Association on or before December 15, 1972.

Notice To Voters

W.L. Tilley, Chairman of the Perquimans County Board of Elections, announced today that the ballots were printed prior to the death of Representative W.L. Culpepper, Jr. of Elizabeth City, who was seeking re-election on the Democratic ticket. This means that Culpepper's name will appear on the ballot instead of Stanford White of Mann's Harbor, who was appointed to finish the unexpired term of Culpepper.

A vote for CULPEPPER will be a vote for WHITE.
