WASHINGTON--A Ralph Nader group has accused aerosol can makers of placing explosives in American homes. The group urged that federal law provide triple damages for victims of the bursting containers.

CROSSROADS OF AGING

By JACQUELINE RICKS

An area of special interest to the Aging Program has been the handicapped, as the largest percentage of handicapped in the area are the elderly. Working with the Albemarle Area Development Association's Help the Handicapped committee, two major goals have been the elimination of architectural barriers and establishing a sheltered workshop to serve not only the physically and mentally handicapped, but the aged as well. The concept of the committee, made up of interested citizens, is to have a publically sponsored facility with satellites providing in-client and out-client training. The committee is currently considering funding for the facility.

To help provide for some of the needs of the elderly, it has been necessary to rely on volunteers to provide services not able to be met by paid personnel. Here, an effort has been made to involve the aged volunteers, as they have much to contribute to society. There is a need for an organized volunteer service in the region. A Letter of Intent has been submitted, but not yet approved, for RSVP (Retirees Senior Volunteer Program) in the area. This program provides monies for meals and transportation for those 60 and over to do volunteer work and for a paid director.

Emphasis has been placed on utilizing the facilities and training available to the aged in the high schools, learning labs and colleges. Interest is high for classes in crafts and there is a need for retirement courses to help prepare the middle age person for later years.

Libraries in the area have been encouraged to provide increased services for the aged including Home Bound Service at each library - utilizing volunteers to furnish books and other materials to the elderly unable to visit the library. Several libraries are showing films at boarding homes. Many also have large print books for those with vision problems. Few of the problems of the elderly are dealt with without the question of transportation. The program on aging is currently cooperating with Chowan Volunteers, a group of interested citizens, to establish a program to provide volunteer transportation for person 60 and over in the county for medical services, paying bills and grocery shopping.

TOY SAFETY
Food and Drug Administration's Bureau of Product Safety has taken new steps to protect the public by removing unsafe toys from the market. The new steps include: 1) use of consumer deputies to help check toy stores, 2) new presale checking, 3) suggestions for better toy recall methods, 4) seizures of dangerous toys and 5) computerized list of banned toys.

TRADITION BROKEN
SAN FRANCISCO--A long seagoing tradition was broken when the U.S. Navy's hospital ship Sanctuary sailed with 60 female crewmembers aboard. The short trial cruise was a test for male and female sailors living in close quarters.

SMILES

Consolation
Deliberation--"Is a diplomat supposed to tell the truth?"
"Oh, yes. But he is often permitted to take his time discovering it."

Not Long Enough
Poet--Are you the man who cut my hair last time?
Barber--I don't think so, sir, I've only been here six months.

Met Half-Way
"I understand that you've been studying methods for increasing your salary. How did they turn out?"
"Not so well. The boss was studying how to cut expenses at the same time."

Are You Crazy?
Man motorist (after barely avoiding a collision):
"Why, in the name of common sense, didn't you signal?"
Woman motorist (who had just turned into her home driveway):
"Why, I always turn here, stupid!"
