Just because you've never grown chickens is no reason you can't start now and be successful.

Today we have people growing Perdue chickens from all walks of life - farmers, housewives, retired people, people with outside jobs - people who want to make a good income and stay at home.

Twelve months ago 100% of our growers here were inexperienced. So experience is not necessary to be successful. Perdue is on your side. We are willing to teach you our experience. Perdue has 54 years experience in the poultry business.

Through the use of our 3 research farms we are able to learn how to make growing chickens easier and better. We have a PhD formulating our feed for best performance. Your chicks will be specially developed by Perdue's geneticists for heartier growth and better appearance in market.

Perdue will also provide you with an advisor - a Perdue supervisor available day or night to offer advice and work with each grower on the management of the flock.

Perdue currently pays the highest contract for growing broilers in North Carolina. We pay well for your inexperience. You have a guaranteed income (see box below) but through good management you can earn much more. So don't be afraid to increase your income - Grow Perdue Broilers and take the gamble out of farming.
