

Bethel - Snug Harbor Community News

By FRED NELSON
The Anglo-Saxons referred to November as the "wind month" or sometimes the "blood month," probably because during this period they killed animals for their winter meat. It is a month of rest after harvest and before the winter season and is a cheerful month that brings with it autumn leaves and Indian Summer.

The Women of Bethel Baptist Church met at the church Monday afternoon at 2:30 to observe a Day of Prayer.

Several members of the Ladies Triangle Community Club of Snug Harbor visited the Health Care Center Home at Weeksville Tuesday night. Residents of the nursing home were led in devotional and singing by the group. The visiting committee served refreshments to those present.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Bethlehem Church of Christ met Monday night in the home of Mrs. Rosa Stallings. During the business session the annual Thanksgiving Supper was planned, details will be announced later. Delicious refreshments were enjoyed during the social hour by those attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gara have returned to their home in Snug Harbor after a recent trip to Yonkers, New York, where they attended the wedding of Mr. Gara's nephew which took place in that city.

Hello, all my fellow Perquimans! Once again we bring you all the happening at Perquimans High.

On Friday, Seniors came one step closer to graduation when they ordered announcements and calling cards. At third period they assembled in the auditorium to meet with Mr. Tommy May, the representative from Herff Jones. Seniors had a choice of ordering either of four packages or they could order individual items. Most of their excitement was centered around the class keys. The keys are a treasured keepsake of every senior class, but seniors this year were given a special treat. They could order the traditional style key or they could order a special bicentennial edition in red, white and blue.

Also on Friday, a representative from Elizabeth City State University met with interested seniors. They were given the opportunity to ask questions concerning the university and to browse through pamphlets on financial aid and programs of study at ECSU.

On Monday, Juniors also joined in the excitement of special class meetings. At fourth period, they too assembled in the auditorium, but not to order announcements or junior keys. Instead, they were ordering class rings. The students could choose from a wide variety of styles, from the traditional men's style to the girl's dinner ring.

In case there were any visitors at PCHS on Friday, this is just to say that we don't always have gypsies and ghosts walking around campus. Think back! Right! Friday was Halloween! That's why students were dressed so funny.

Mr. and Mrs. William Corprew spent Wednesday in Virginia Beach, Virginia, where they visited the Carl Barber family.

New property owners of Snug Harbor are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Howell and their two young sons, ages fourteen and nine years, respectively. Mr. Howell is with the United States Navy and Mrs. Howell is on the nursing staff of Norfolk General Hospital. The family is now living in Norfolk, Virginia; but when in Snug Harbor, they will be at 65-H Willow Street.

Mr. M.L. Watkins was a patient at Chowan Hospital last Thursday and Friday. The Bethel Volunteer Firemen met on Tuesday evening for their regular monthly supper and business meeting. Plans were completed for the upcoming Barbeque Chicken Supper which will be held on Saturday, November 15 at the Fire Station. Tickets are $2. and can be purchased from any member of the Fire Department, the Bethel Market or Snug Harbor Marina.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Bethel Fire Department will sponsor a Bake Sale at the Barbeque Chicken Supper. They are seeking contributions of "goodies" from anyone in the community who are interested in supporting this worthy cause. Mrs. Deedie Mae Proctor, president of the Auxiliary, or Mrs. Elaine Phillips who will be in charge of the Bake Sale booth, will be on hand to welcome these items. Plan now to participate.

Mr. and Mrs. M.E. Nelson spent last Thursday in the Capitol City, Raleigh, North Carolina. They visited the State Capitol Building which is now being renovated for the Bicentennial year. The work is to be completed in June of 1976. The Nelsons visited state offices while in the city and lunched in the downtown district near the State Capitol.

It was a fisherman's (but in this case, a fisherwoman's) dream come true when Mrs. Jackie Lewis of Snug Harbor landed — not one, but two — four-pound (4 lbs. ea.) striped bass while fishing in the Albemarle Sound last Saturday. Jackie was accompanied by her husband, A.T. Lewis, and Mr. Tom Harrell of Edenton from whose boat the trio were fishing. The irony of the fishing expedition was that Jackie's catch were the only ones taken.

Reverend and Mrs. Samuel Fowler spent the weekend at their retreat at Kinly, N.C. Their granddaughter, Miss Debbie Farrenkopf of Virginia Beach, Va., and Mrs. Fowler's father, Mr. J.B. Sykes, accompanied them. The gem for November is the topaz, its flower is the chrysanthemum.

ENJOY DEEP-SEA FISHING — Enjoying some deep-sea fishing on the Outer Banks recently were (l. to r.) Bob Harrington, Ted Williams, Senator J.J. "Monk" Harrington, and Jim "Catfish" Hunter. Williams and Hunter were guests of Senator Harrington and his son, Bob.

Harrington Hosts Fishing Excursion

Ted Williams, Chairman of Sears Sports Advisory Staff, was the feature attraction at the recent 25th Annual Nags Head Surf Fishing Tournament. He was on the Outer Banks for three days. During his stay Ted and Jim "Catfish" Hunter enjoyed some deep-sea fishing as guests of State Senator J.J. "Monk" Harrington and his son, Bob.

Once at the Gulf Stream, Ted and Jim devoted their time to some serious fishing. Ted, who is an avid fisherman, as well as the last man to bat over 400, gave "Catfish" some instructions as to how to land the two wahoo that "Catfish" hauled in. Senator J.J. "Monk" Harrington extends a cordial invitation to the people of the Piedmont and the Western part of our state to his district for some good fishing.

Baseball was the topic of conversation between Ted and Jim during the boat trip to the Gulf Stream. The conversation between the two baseball greats was enjoyed by all since the Senator used to play pro ball in Greensboro during World War II, and Bob played ball with "Catfish" in American Legion ball.
