Make children happy with Santa's letter

Add extra cheer and excitement to your children's Christmas this year by directing their letters to Santa through our Clipping Service, c/o this drugstore, Box 5051, Raleigh, N.C. 27607. Accompany each letter with a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Look for Santa's personal reply.

We've produced a beautiful, glossy Christmas card illustrated with pictures of the original Santa Claus and the poem, "The Night Before Christmas," together with a personally written note of Christmas tidings from Santa, himself! So send your letter today, and delight your child. Merry Christmas to all!

Santa's Say: Parties and travel are a part of everyone's Christmas fun. So, enjoy. But remember, there are those who fill their bellies with booze while emptying their minds of thought — a deathly mixture. So, stay alert.

Turn Off TV Violence

TO THE EDITOR:
 People keep asking what can be done about the rapid increase in crime. Part of the trouble lies with television. The programs for the most part are filled with smut and violence. Programs that are on television now, from the soap operas on, could not be there without a significant number of those watching it hoping things will go "just a little further."

Our young people are fully aware of television's questionable content. They know their parents are watching it. By the time the average child is 14, he has witnessed 11,000 T.V. murders. Our country would be better off if more people would just "turn it off."

Parade Success

TO THE EDITOR:
 With the weather cooperating to the best of its ability and with the expert planning of the Perquimans Jaycees continually in evidence, the annual Christmas Parade was one huge success. Much credit should also go to all those contributing to the various colorful units, floats and marching band units, led off by the Hertford Fifes & Drums personnel.

Homemakers Meet

"Christmas Every Day of the Year" was the theme of the program at the Whiteston Homemaker's Club meeting, Monday night, December 1st in the Community Building. Mrs. Louise Stallings was in charge of the program. She told the group of a family that gave "promise notes" for all the year and how a mother received much joy when she kept a promise to give her young son two hours from one of her busy days and watched a bed of squirrels play. Mrs. Myra Riddick read the Christmas story from Luke's Gospel and Mrs. Virginia White shared a story she had received in a card. Carrie Gregory and Lena Winslow read Christmas poems. Several carols were sung. The members and their families enjoyed a delicious turkey supper with all the trimmings prepared by the members in a beautiful decorated setting. Rev. and Mrs. Archie Creed led the group in several interesting and entertaining quizzes. Rev. Creed and his son gave a little skit. Several Christmas decorations and gift ideas were on display.
