Whiteston Homemakers Have Recent Meeting

The Whiteston Homemakers Club members agreed they were today's typical American that needed to read more news and less comics, when they took the Citizenship Quiz at their meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Annie Mae Baker. Their spirits were somewhat lifted when Mrs. Paige Underwood gave her "two cents worth." She demonstrated making a bottle doll and everyone likes arts and crafts. She dressed the doll in red, white and blue, gave her a flag and called her Betsy Ross.

Mrs. Louise Stallings gave a very inspiring reading on "Are You a Hung-up Homemaker?"

National Homemaker's Club week was discussed and Mrs. Underwood urged the members to participate in some way. She announced the window in Blanchard's Store in Hertford was filled to demonstrate all areas of club work, and spoke of the upcoming District Craft Workshop.

Mrs. Archie White brought each member a quart of fresh strawberries from her garden. Mrs. Marjorie Winslow shared the idea to record in the yearbook what was done during the month and it would be much easier to make the score sheet at the end of the year.

The meeting closed with the club collect and the hostess served a salad and beverage.
