By BETTY JONES
As the month of February rolls in happenings at P.C.H.S. seem to be at a standstill. Maybe the students and faculty can't seem to get used to the unusually cold weather. If Mr. Forecaster, the groundhog is right, as he so often is, it's heavy coats and big boots for six more weeks.

DR. R.C. WELLS

Seminar Slated

Upon Mr. Pat Harrell's request, a few students paid a visit to him discussing problems, likes and dislikes pertaining to the high school. This group is scheduled to meet with Mr. Harrell every first Wednesday once a month for the remainder of the school year. Those meetings seem to be successful and are proving to be of great interest to Mr. Harrell as well as the students.

The Tax Reform Act of 1976 will be emphasized in an Estate Planning Seminar sponsored by the Coastal Plains Area Economics Program of the North Carolina Extension Service on Feb. 17 and 24.

The process of receiving lunch at P.C.H.S. has once again changed. Box lunches were eliminated, consequently resulting in a long plate line. This new system could prove beneficial if all parties involved acted accordingly. The Beta Club had one week of hard candy sales. Each member was asked to sell a certain amount of Reese Peanut Butter Cups. The Biology Club met last week to finish discussing possible fund-raising projects. It was decided to start candy sales within the next month. The Health Careers Club is selling balloons near Harris Shopping Center and downtown Hertford every weekend to help raise money for the Heart Fund.

Charles E. Hammond, Area Management-Marketing Specialist said the new tax law has sent "shock waves through the estate planning profession. Virtually everyone's estate will be affected by changes made in death and gift tax regulations."

The Student Council for Valentine's Day plans "A Singing Valentine" activity. The person writes a valentine poem to his or her sweetheart then delivers it to a council member.

Hammond said the seminar will be conducted by Dr. R.C. Wells, an Extension Economist from N.C. State University. Dr. Wells has conducted estate planning seminars throughout North Carolina, Florida and Kentucky in recent years. Starting time for the seminar is 7:30 p.m. and the place is the Perquimans County Courthouse in Hertford. For further information a person should call 426-5356. Persons should try to attend both sessions since each session will cover different area of Estate Planning.
