Goodby Salute

By FRED A NELSON

A community in today's time that is fortunate enough to still have its own newspaper is lucky indeed. Hertford and Perquimans County rate among the few that have operating in their midst and representative of its people — a total weekly newspaper. This is a uniqueness that is commendable and certainly something to be proud of.

So as I bid you, my friends, readers and patrons of THE WEEKLY, and staff members and newspaper associates who have become a real part of my family a fond farewell, I salute you for your interest and support in the on-going of your voice in the community which is served through this newspaper.

You are the "People and Places" and "Bits of Interest" that I shall cherish and take with me wherever I may choose to go.

Furniture Care

Most furniture polishes contains bees-wax. Bees-wax puts a shine on the finish. However, bees-wax never gets hard. Therefore, it traps the dust and will become discolored. This discoloration will hide the beauty of the wood. If you set or lay something damp or hot on a waxed table you will get a white spot. The wax is what turns white. This wax traps the moisture in. If the white spot is ignored, the moisture goes down into the finish and on into the wood which then turns dark. To remove white rings, toothpaste containing pumice will work according to Frank Broadnax, who recently held a refinished furniture workshop in Perquimans County.

To remove a white ring from furniture, a black heel mark from your floor, or a leaf stain from an automobile with toothpaste, use a soft cloth, wet the cloth, squeeze out all the water you can and apply some toothpaste on the cloth. Rub out the white ring, black heel marks, leaf stains, etc.
