Hertford, Perquimans County, N.C., Thursday, July 14, 1977

15 CENTS

Robberies Reported

In an effort to warn other property owners, Charles Lentsch of Rt. 1, Hertford, a resident of the Snug Harbor community of Perquimans County, has informed The Perquimans Weekly of a recent robbery at his home.

Lentsch, who lives in a mobile home, was on vacation from May 16 through July 6. Upon his arrival home, he found the following items had been stolen: the tires from his automobile, a small television set, two watches and two watch cases. Lentsch reported the incident to the Perquimans County Sheriff's Department. Sheriff Julian Broughton reported that investigation is continuing in the case.

Lentsch also reported that a neighbor in the Snug Harbor area, Charles Heff of Portsmouth, Va., had the following items stolen: a coffee table, a dining room set, and some small tools. A third mobile home in the same area was not involved in the incident.

MRS. M.B. TAYLOR

Mrs. Taylor Is Selected

Mrs. M.B. Taylor has been named "Kiss Your Baby" Campaign Chairperson for Perquimans County, according to George W. Little, State Campaign Chairperson, North Carolina Chapter, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. The CF Foundation supports research in children's lung-damaging diseases such as asthma with lung damage, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis, childhood emphysema, and cystic fibrosis, the most serious of all.

More than 6,000,000 American children suffer with one or more of these lung-damaging diseases of which there are 150,000 in North Carolina alone. Many of these youngsters are treated at the Duke CF Center which is supported by the Foundation.

The signs of lung-damaging diseases are recurrent wheezing, persistent coughing, excessive mucous, pneumonia more than once, excessive appetite but poor weight gain, and clubbing of the fingertips. In addition to the above, cystic fibrosis signs may also include salty taste of the skin, persistent bulky diarrhea, and nasal polyps.

Chosen To Attend Session

Ava Garrett, State Manager of Historic Edenton, Inc., has been chosen to attend the Victorian Society Summer School in London, England for three weeks. The course is sponsored jointly by the Victorian Society in America and the British Victorian Society.

The scholarship course will be concerned with the history of Victorian architecture in Britain; with some emphasis on the later Victorian period and its influences on American architecture. There will be lectures by some of the leading scholars and experts in the architecture, art and social and religious history of the period. These will be complemented by visits to many of the major Victorian buildings and monuments in London and elsewhere in England.

Ms. Garrett hopes to bring back a better knowledge of the Victorian world so that she can help develop a growing interest in preserving Victorian architecture in Edenton.

Edenton has a large number of structures built during the Victorian era and Ms. Garrett would like to see this part of Edenton's history developed more. Such prominent buildings as Wessington House (1850) and St. Anne's Church (1857) are considered Victorian. Jubilee and the Paine Houses were built during the Victorian Age also.

It is the hope of Historic Edenton's site manager to make the people of Edenton and the surrounding area more aware of their total history and architectural range available in the town.

Winslow Involved In Summer Training

Stan Winslow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Winslow of Belvidere, has accepted a position with the Extension Service in Bladen County, Elizabethtown, N.C.

This is an "in service training program" which will continue during the summer months. He will be

Chaffin Presides At District Court Session

Judge John Chaffin presided at the regular session of Perquimans County District Court and heard the following cases:

The two charges were consolidated for judgment in the case of Samuel Milton Rogers, who was charged with violation of restriction of operator's license to operate 30 miles of Creswell, and another charge of speeding and being on the wrong side of the highway. The defendant was fined $50 and cost in each case;

Ronnie Harper, charged with assault and battery was told to voluntarily return to Cherry Hospital and to remain there until discharged. Prayer for judgment was continued until Sept. 28. The court will review status when the defendant is discharged. He was taxed with cost of the court;

Chester Alfred Judkins Jr. was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle while license was revoked and received a six-months sentence, suspended for three years, a fine of $400 and cost, and was told not to operate at motor vehicle in North Carolina until he is duly relicensed by the Department of Motor Vehicles. An appeal was noted and bond was continued;

Richard I. Denny was found not guilty of assault and battery;

Jake Matthews, charged with assault and battery on a female, was given a nine-months sentence suspended upon payment of a fine of $300 and cost, was told to remain on good behavior, not to assault Willie Riddick, and make restitution of all medical bills mentioned in the case;

Jesse Haywood Bundy, charged with driving under the influence of intoxicating beverage (third offense), received a 12-months sentence suspended for four years, a fine of $600 and cost, was told to surrender his driver's license to the Clerk of Superior Court, and not to operate a motor vehicle until relicensed by the Department of Motor Vehicles. An appeal was noted;

Therman Banna Dunbar was taxed with a fine of $5 and cost on a speeding charge;

Jack West Whitley was found guilty of having improper equipment and was taxed with a fine of $5 and cost;

Raymond Earl Jones was found not guilty of a charge of driving on the right of highway; and Robert D. Kramer III was taxed with cost on an inspection violation.

More participants are welcome.

New Books
New books have come in much faster lately and not all will appear in this column, but some of the best include:
Code Name Zorro: The Murder of Martin Luther King by Mark Lane and Dick Gregory examines the possibility of conspiracy in the assassination.
Five Seasons: A Baseball Companion by Roger Angell is one of the best baseball books in years.
The Thorn Birds by Colleen McCullough is a romantic saga of a family which begins in Australia and ends 50 years later in the Vatican.

On Sen. Morgan's Staff:

Copeland Serves As Intern

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Tony Copeland of Hertford, is serving a summer internship in the Washington office of United States Senator Robert Morgan. He has been working in Morgan's office since June 13 and will continue on a part-time basis until mid-August.

Copeland's work has included assignments with the Senator's Banking and Finance Committee, and helping with legislative research dealing with the Consumer Product Safety Commission. In addition, he has attended meetings and luncheons with various lobbyists and industry representatives.

According to Copeland, the pace in Washington is always "pretty hectic," but he says "things usually seem to work out well." He admits that the workings of the Senate and the city are impressive but says that he has found "real people" among the Senators and staffers he has met.

Copeland is a rising senior at Duke University in Durham, N.C. where he is a member of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity. He is majoring in history and political science, and expresses interest in law and political processes in the United States.

Copeland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Copeland of Hertford.

Billy Williams. District Governor Kaplafka was installed to that office on July 2 when the International Lions Clubs convention met in New Orleans, La. with over 50,000 members attending. Lions are ranked as the world's largest service organization. (Staff photo by Kathy Newbern)

Hertford Police File Report

The following report of recent actions taken by members of the Hertford Police Department has been filed by new Hertford Police Chief, Marshall Merritt:

ARRESTS

Daniel Louis Cooper, 35, of 208 King Street, Hertford was arrested for throwing acid or alkali on July 6. The arrest, two counts, was made by Officer J.R. Logan. Cooper was released on $1,000 bond.

Thomas C. Riddick Jr. of P.O. Box 62, Winfall, was arrested by Officer Logan on July 9 and charged with disorderly conduct. Riddick was released on $300 bond.

George Louis Sutton of Rt. 3, Hertford was arrested July 10 at 12:55 a.m. for driving under the influence of alcohol. He was released on his own recognizance. The arrest was made by Patrolman R.L. Harvey.

CITATIONS

Curtis Shambry Jr. of 314 Covent Garden St., Hertford was cited at 9:05 a.m. on July 9 for following too closely by Chief Merritt.

ACCIDENTS

Ryson James Taylor of Hertford was charged with operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license following an accident July 8 at 3:55 a.m. at the north end of the old iron bridge on Church Street. According to Patrolman J.R. Logan, the Taylor car, traveling south on Church Street, struck the bridge railing and bounced into the northbound lane and was struck by a truck operated by Clarence C. Chappell III of Rt. 1, Belvidere. Estimate of damages placed the Taylor car at a total loss and the Chappell truck at $2,000 damages. Both drivers were transported to Albemarle Hospital by the Perquimans County Rescue Squad.

Deadline Announced For Beef Referendum

North Carolina beef producers who registered in June to vote in the national beef referendum have through July 15 to cast their ballots.

The votes will be taken at the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office in Hertford.

Over 3,000 Tar Heel producers registered and are eligible to vote. Nationally, some 300,000 cattlemen registered for the first self-assessment referendum ever held by the beef industry.

Up for approval is a beef market development plan which calls for financing by an assessment of one-third of one per cent of the value of a beef animal at the time of sale.

North Carolina State

University agricultural extension livestock specialists explain that, under the proposed program, 30 cents of each $100 sale would go into the beef market development program.

The money would be collected automatically, but the selling producer could have his 30 cents returned upon request from the 68-member Beef Board.

The board, which will be made up of cattlemen, will use the funds to finance beef research, education and promotion. A number of farm commodity groups currently have similar programs. Some of these are cotton, eggs, tobacco, oranges and soybeans.

Two-thirds of those voting in the referendum must approve for the development plan to become effective. At least half of those who registered must vote in order for the referendum to be valid.

Additional details regarding the referendum and the proposed program are available through local offices of the Agricultural Extension Service, ASCS, livestock associations and the state office of the N.C. Cattlemen's Association in Raleigh, N.C.

Darden's To Close

The management of Darden's Department Store, located on Church Street in Hertford, has announced that the store will be closed for the entire day on Wednesday, July 20.

The closing will be observed for employees to participate in the annual picnic.
