

Local Police Dept. Reports

The following report of recent activities was released Tuesday morning by the Hertford Police Department.

ACCIDENT

Lee Ernest Warren of Wynne Fork Court, Hertford, was charged with following too close by Officer J.R. Logan following an accident at the intersection of Grubb and Edenton Road Streets on Aug. 3 at 8:57 p.m. Officer Logan said that a vehicle driven by Cathy Jo Segraves of 323 N. Church St., Hertford, was yielding to traffic, preparing to make a left turn onto Edenton Road St. when the Warren vehicle struck her rear bumper. There was only minor damage to the Segraves vehicle and no damage to the Warren car.

Summer Programs Ending Soon

Three of the library's summer programs will be ending in the next week. The Wednesday story hour (grades 1-3) will end on Aug. 10; the Thursday story hour (grades 4-6) will end on Aug. 11; while the year round Friday story hour will continue as usual for preschoolers. The summer reading derby will end on Aug. 15 and all book reports should be made by that day. Summer reading program certificates will be awarded to all children who have read 25 or more books. The staff is planning special programs to wrap up the summer, so for parents whose children have been active with either the story hours or the reading derby are asked to have them at the appropriate story hour next week.

New Books

Man in Africa by Colin Turnbull is an overview of man's history in Africa which finds an ancient civilization and culture there much more sophisticated than is usually assumed.

Words and Women by Casey Miller examines the subtle role language itself can play in limiting women's opportunities.

Phase Three Alert by John Ball is a novel involving a World War II B-17 with a secret cargo which is found 30 years after being lost in an arctic storm and the rush to recover that cargo.

The Official Encyclopedia of Baseball is the most extensive collection of baseball statistics available with records of over 10,000 players and team and league data.
