Jones Concerned Over Aflatoxin

First District Congressman Walter B. Jones recently expressed great concern over an outbreak of aflatoxin across much of eastern North Carolina appearing in the corn crop. This outbreak has resulted in virtually a moratorium being imposed on the purchase of corn by grain dealers until such time as the Food and Drug Administration sets specific standards as to a reasonable and safe tolerance which will protect the health and welfare of citizens and also the beef, swine and poultry industry.

In a telegram to Commissioner Donald Kennedy of the Food and Drug Administration on Sept. 1, Congressman Jones stressed the extreme urgency of quick action and requested that the FDA grant a greater tolerance for aflatoxin so that grain purchases can resume.

Kiss Your Baby Week Proclaimed

Bill Cox, Mayor of Hertford, has released a proclamation declaring the weeks of September 5-16 as Kiss Your Baby Week throughout the town. The proclamation urges all citizens of the community to join with the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation in its struggle.

The proclamation points out that 150,000 North Carolina youngsters are suffering with incurable lung-damaging diseases of which Cystic Fibrosis is the most serious and applauds the efforts of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation in its

Kiss Your Baby campaign to help fight children's lung-damaging diseases.
