

Pirates Remain In The Thick

By BILLY WOOTEN

The Pirates of Perquimans High School remained in the thick of the Albemarle Conference race Monday night, coming from behind to defeat host Murfreesboro, 20-18. The local boys carried a 14-6 lead in at halftime, thanks to a fine 41 yard run by Carl Zachary, and a blocked punt return for a touchdown by Marvin White, but the lead didn't last long. Murfreesboro scored twice, once after a fumble by the Pirates had given them good field position, and at the end of a 10 play, 66 yard drive, to take the lead 18-14 with just over four minutes left in the ballgame. Perquimans then drove 53 yards in 10 plays, with Mike Flythe dashing the last 26 yards for the winning touchdown. Key plays in the drive were a nine yard run by Zachary to pick up the initial first down, and a 15 yard penalty against Murfreesboro, which also picked up a 1st down. The Pirates, now 3-3-1, host winless Gumberry this Friday night looking for their third conference win in a row.

Makes Special Efforts

RALEIGH — Governor James B. Hunt Jr. has announced the start of a special effort to protect all children and infants in North Carolina from the most serious childhood diseases — polio, mumps, measles, rubella (German measles), diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus.

higher goal for North Carolina: "I am happy to tell you that this state already has a protected level of an estimated 84 per cent among the one to four-year olds, but that leaves some 55,000 children in this age group without adequate protection. No medical doctor, public official, or parent should be satisfied until we have eliminated the threat of these terrible diseases through immunizing every child in the State.

Therefore, I have asked Dr. Sarah Morrow, Secretary of the Department of Human Resources, to set North Carolina's goal at 95 per cent protection; and I ask all parents to have their children vaccinated, either by a private physician or at a public health facility. These shots are free at public health offices. Immunizations for children locally may be received from their private physician or through their local health department.

This campaign, which is being handled by the Communicable Disease Branch of the Department of Human Resources, is part of a nationwide, federally financed program to fully immunize an estimated 20 million children who have received no immunization, or whose protection is not adequate, according to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

In announcing the program earlier, HEW Secretary Joseph Califano said that the aim was to raise the national level of protection among children from 60 per cent to 90 per cent over a two-year period. Governor Hunt set a

NEDT Test Given

The Perquimans County High School will administer the NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL DEVELOPMENT TESTS, a testing program that helps professional educators, parents, and students plan together for the educational and vocational future of the students.

James S. Midgette, Director of Guidance, says that the NEDT Program is being used because it will give the school the type of information it needs to help the students make realistic decisions. "The NEDT will help us to help the student plan wisely for his or her education and future career."

"The program will reveal how well the student can apply the skills they have acquired since entering school. It will help us recognize the strengths in each student's educational development and, at the same time, will pinpoint weaknesses. This information will enable us to help a particular student while in school, and will serve as a guide in helping us to improve our education program."

This program is for ninth and tenth grade students.
