Library programs are announced

By WAYNE HENRITZE
Perquimans County Librarian

GRANT AWARDED TO LIBRARY
The Perquimans County Public Library has received a grant of $15,589 to continue and expand services to the rural isolated in Perquimans County. The Library Services and Construction ACT (LSCA) grant will be used to bring library outreach programs to the homebound, institutionalized, and geographically isolated citizens of the county.

Specific programs will include new book and film programs in the county's rest homes and establishment of a series of mini-libraries in rural grocery stores throughout the county.

SELF SERVICE MINI-LIBRARIES
Arrangements have already been made with a number of rural grocers and community clubs to establish paperback mini-libraries across the county by about July 1. These libraries will consist of from 150 to 250 paperback books on a wide variety of topics for all ages and interests. There will be a simple self-service check out system to avoid any burden on the store owners who have been good enough to provide space.

Locations already selected include O.A. Chappell's Store in Chappell Hill, Wink's Store in Whiteston, Stallings' Store in Joppa, Towe & Quincey's Store in Chapanoke, Bethel Market in Bethel, the club houses at Holiday Island and Snug Harbor, and the New Hope Post Office.

Since several locations are near the county lines and the stores containing the racks serve customers in other counties, borrowers from Chowan, Gates, and Pasquotank counties will be welcomed.

BOOKS AND FILMS TO NURSING HOMES
A bi-monthly service to most of the county's rest homes has already begun, consisting primarily of book selection and delivery from the main library and a film program on a two-week cycle. Large print materials will be obtained as needed.

HOMEBOUND SERVICE TO CONTINUE
The library's homebound service which delivers library materials to shut-ins will continue and plans are for expansion. If you or someone you know cannot travel to the library to get reading material, call the library and members of the staff will bring materials to you as long as you are ill, incapacitated, or lack transportation to town. In general, an individual is considered homebound if he is unable to do his own grocery shopping or must rely on someone else for transportation.

LIBRARY SUMMER PROGRAMS
The Perquimans County Library is pleased to announce its summer reading and story programs. The programs will center around a pair of store hours and a summer reading program co-sponsored by Hardee's hamburgers. These programs will begin on Monday, June 19, the week after most Vacation Bible Schools in the county, and will continue through Friday, August 25, just before school begins again.

STORY HOURS
For preschoolers, the library's weekly year-round story hour will continue on Friday from 10 to 11 a.m. Children from 3 to 5 years old are invited to participate in these weekly sessions.

Kindergarten and elementary grade children are invited to the library's Wednesday morning summer story hour beginning June 21 from 10 to 11 a.m.

Both programs will consist of a wide ranging mix of stories, games, crafts, and films.

READING PROGRAMS
For the second consecutive year, Hardee's has agreed to co-sponsor the read program by providing a coupon good for a free hamburger for ever five books read and a Big Twin for every 25 books read.

The program will be restricted to elementary grade children who can read their own books and will require a very brief (one minute or less) oral book report. Further details will be posted at the library.

The people at Hardee's have been very supportive of this program and the library is appreciative. Mention your appreciation to the managers when you're in the Edenton and Elizabeth City locations.

KEEP YOUR CHILD READING
For many children, reading skills are only slowly and agonizingly gained and hard won skills are easily forgotten during a bookless summer. Bring your children to the library often and make a lifelong investment in their future while your children have fun.
