Viking heads N.C. arthritis campaign

Johnson, a player for the Minnesota Vikings, was a star player for the UNC Tar Heels from 1970 to 1974. He was with the San Francisco Forty Niners for two and one half years following the 1974 UNC season.

DeBenning, national chairman of the American Arthritis Assoc., stated: "Sammy Johnson will give effective leadership to our efforts in North Carolina in the fight against arthritis. He will also make us aware that many prominent athletes are arthritis victims. We welcome Sammy Johnson to our fighting team against arthritis."

DeBenning stated that a free booklet, A FAMILY DOCTOR LOOKS AT ARTHRITIS by Dr. William W. Levis, III, could be obtained by writing Sammy Johnson, c/o ERA Zephyr, Realtors, 115 W. Main St., Carrboro, N.C. 27510.

medical science. Fifty million Americans and five hundred thousand North Carolinians are arthritis victims.
