Another four years have passed and now it's campaign time again.

You fellows are out and about . . . shaking hands and kissing babies. You jet in, motorcade around and drop a few promises. Then, before we know it, you've dropped us for another four years. If it weren't for the evening news, most of us wouldn't even know that you'd been here.

But, that's simply not enough this time around. We want more.

Inflation has been hitting pretty hard in this area. And we can't help but believe you folks in Washington have something to do with that. More importantly, we think you could do something to turn it around. Right now!

North Carolinians like to prepare for the future. We like to have a little money in savings "just in case." But, at the current rate of inflation, that's almost impossible to do. Even when we can put a little aside in our Savings and Loan, you tax us on the interest. Now, is that fair? Not to us!

Some folks in Congress have gotten the message. And, they've tried to provide incentive for saving. We hope you've been listening to them. It might mean a few more votes down this way.

Before you leave for another four years, we want you to tell us just what you plan to do to help us prepare for the future. We're ready to listen. And, we're ready to help whichever one of you is willing to give us a tax break.

We just think it's time you showed a little interest in savers.
