The bride-elect is a graduate of Perquimans County High School, College of the Albemarle, and Appalachian State University, where she received a Bachelor of Science degree in Early Childhood Education. She is employed by Caldwell County Department of Social Services as day care coordinator.

The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Asheville High School, Montreat Anderson College, and Appalachian State University, where he received a Masters degree in Political Science. Creighton is currently employed with Howard Brothers Electrical Corporation in Asheville.

An October 11 wedding is planned at St. Lawrence Catholic Church in Asheville.

Buchanan-Rogerson

Carter Rogerson and Susan Buchanan announce their forthcoming marriage in Scottsdale, Arizona. The ceremony will take place Sept. 6.

Carter Rogerson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Rogerson, Jr. of Hertford.

Wedding

Brinn-Spitler

Captain Kim Alane Spitler and Captain Rufus Timothy Brinn, Jr. were married Saturday, Aug. 23, at 11 a.m. in Cannonier Chapel, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. The military wedding was conducted by Major (P) Vincent MacMenamy, Chaplain, United States Army.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Robert Spitler of Columbus, Ohio.

The groom is the son of Navy Captain (ret.) and Mrs. Rufus Timothy Brinn of Hertford.

Maid of honor was Navy Lieutenant Suzanne Corley of Norfolk, Va. Miss Beverly Brinn, sister of the groom, of Hertford, served as bridesmaid.

Captain John Glaze of Hawaii served as best man.

A saber arch was performed by Major Cy Walker, Captain

Colin Dunn, Lieutenants Harry Malone, Frank Baynham, and Captain John Galize, all of Hawaii.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at Foster's Point Yacht Club on Hickham Air Force Base.

The bride, who is a graduate of Ohio State University, is a member of the Army Nurse Corps assigned to Tripler Army Medical Center, Hawaii. She specializes in neonatal intensive care.

The groom was graduated from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and is a December candidate for a master in Education from Pepperdine University. He is a member of the U. S. Army assigned to Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, where he is a division artillery adjutant.

After a honeymoon to New Zealand, the couple will reside in Makakilo, Hawaii.

DIVERS & SONS

Buzz-in

A ruby throated hummingbird buzzes in for a sip of sugar water at Angler's Cove Restaurant. Several such feeders have been installed by various persons around the county that attract the beautiful little birds.

Fashion show set

A river front fall fashion show and luncheon will be held at 1 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 20, at the home of Claude Brinn on Front Street, Hertford.

The outside luncheon-show will be sponsored by the Hertford Business and Professional Women's Club. Proceeds will go toward District BPW fund-raising efforts, and to the locally sponsored scholarship fund.

Fall fashions from White's Dress Shoppe, Woodland Dress Shop, Darden's Department Store, P.H. Rose, and the Sport Spot will be featured.

Community members who will be modeling fashions are: Mick Whitley, Maywood Nowell and her two granddaughters, Pete Broughton, Susan Winslow, and her daughter, Marjorie Lou Fields, Frances Monds, Pat Mansfield, Helen Mae Murray, Harriet Woodard and her daughter, and Juanita Bailey.

The price for the show and wine-luncheon is $4. Tickets may be purchased from any BPW member, or may be obtained at the Perquimans County Library.

Preschoolers need this test

How would a young child know how he should see? He wouldn't, unless you, as a parent, help him... Have you?

We suggest administering a do-it-yourself home-eye-test for preschool children. You may request a FREE Eye-Test by clipping this article and sending c/o our Independent Pharmacist's Clipping Service, Box 5051, Raleigh, NC 27650. It will help you determine your preschooler's need for healthy vision.

Look for the signs of strained vision in your child (squinting, blinking, rubbing). Then, look for our "Sign" for conscientious pharmacy services!

Perquimans Gardening

By Jean Winslow

Bring amaryllis plants in from the garden now. Store them in an out-of-the-way place, withholding water until the foliage dies down.

Check plants for moisture, especially azaleas. Plants under deciduous trees sometimes fail to receive a proper share of rain because of the canopy of leaves overhead.

Wait until we get some good rain to fertilize the lawn, but don't forget to do it soon. Fall is the best time of the year, as fertilizing now encourages roots to "run" right on through the mild part of the winter.

Check trees for weak crotches. September is not only harvest time, but hurricane time. Weak trees will not be able to withstand the winds unless they are given adequate support.

All narcissus bulbs should be in the ground by the end of this month. Don't forget to get a few paper whites for forcing inside.

If camellias look dejected, try a little 0-12-12 fertilizer, water well and mulch. Proper care usually precludes special fertilizers; if azaleas and camellias are properly watered and mulched with an acid producing material such as pine needles, a less expensive fertilizer will suffice.

Plant peonies. As soon as I buy some I'm gonna do just that. Use bonemeal and woodashes for feeding if you have them. Cover beds lightly with mulch for the winter.

Plant poppy and bachelor button seeds.

The National Wildlife Federation suggests that a walk in the woods now would be more enjoyable if you know which irritating plants to avoid. Poison oak is prevalent in dry-sandy coastal woods; look for an erect shrub with three distinctly lobed leaflets.

Poison sumac is a large shrub or small tree with drooping clusters of small ivory-colored fruits, preferring a swampy environment. The red-fruited sumacs are non poisonous.

The Celandine has beautiful deep yellow flowers which you should not pick, as the bright orange juice which will drip from the stem can irritate the skin.
