License renewal notices are being mailed out

If you registered your car, truck, motorcycle, trailer or rental vehicle between July 1 and Dec. 31, 1980, check the expiration date on your vehicle registration card.

Your card will probably show that your license plate expires June 30, 1981. The North Carolina Department of Transportation's Division of Motor Vehicles is gearing up to mail license plate renewal cards to approximately 500,000 motorists whose license plates expire in June.

License plate renewal cards will be mailed by the motor vehicles division through May 15.

State Transportation Secretary, Tom Bradshaw noted that a motorist who renews in June will pay a 12-month registration fee and will not need to register his vehicle again until June of 1982.

Two held in Hollowell Oil theft

The Perquimans County Sheriff's Department, in conjunction with other area law enforcement agencies, arrested two men May 4 in connection with the Feb. 16 incident at Hollowell Oil Company involving the theft of two company trucks and 2,060 gallons of fuel oil.

William T. Griffin, 36, of South Mills, and Elijah Williams, 43, of Elizabeth City, were arrested after a some 30-month

"Early this year we changed to a new vehicle registration system which 'stagger' license plate renewals throughout the year," Bradshaw said. "This new system will help eliminate the traditionally long lines at license plate offices and allow us to provide more efficient service to the state's motoring public."

Motor Vehicles Commissioner, Elbert L. Peters, Jr., said the annual fee for license tags has not changed. The annual fee for a car is still $16.

"Motor vehicle owners should check their license renewal cards for the fees they will pay, the license plate expiration dates and the license renewal dates," Peters said.

Validation stickers and license tags may be purchased in person from one of 115 license plate agencies across the state or by mail from the motor vehicles division in Raleigh. Motorists who renew in June already have two validation stickers on their license plates. They will purchase a 1982 sticker which should be placed directly over the 1981 "year" sticker or the old year sticker should be peeled off the license plate and the new one should be put in its place. The existing "month" sticker is a permanent sticker and should not be removed from the license plate.

Peters said motorists should check their license plate renewal brochure enclosed with the renewal card for the correct placement of the sticker.

Motor vehicle owners who have vehicles licensed for 5,000 pounds or more, or who have special license plates (personalized, official, "handicapped," fireman, etc.) will still renew their license plates from Jan. 1 to mid-February each year.

Firemen

Firemen who display flashing lights when responding to a fire alarm are not excluded from the law if they have an accident or endanger someone.

Most importantly, Swanson stressed the need for caution and safety consciousness when responding to a fire alarm. "Don't stick your neck out too far and get it loped off," he said. "If you don't get there you haven't helped anybody."

Swanson noted that a firetruck is extremely heavy, and difficult to stop. "When you do get it wound up it's sort of like a train engine. You can't get it stopped too easy," Swanson said.

Several items of business were on the agenda, and the association dispensed with them before Swanson took the floor. On a motion by Hertford fire chief investigation involving sheriff's departments from Perquimans, Pasquotank, Gates, and Camden Counties, as well as the SBI and the FBI.

Griffin was charged with breaking and entering, larceny of a motor vehicle, larceny of oil, conspiracy to commit larceny of oil and conspiracy to commit larceny of a motor vehicle.

He was placed in Albemarle District Jail under
