

PCHS graduate wins scholarship

A 1982 Perquimans County High School honor graduate has been named recipient of a scholarship at College of the Albemarle awarded by the Mid-Atlantic Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Inc.

Curtis Gregory, general manager, announced this week that Deborah J. Hoffpaur, who ranked first in her class of 125 graduates, will receive this year's $300 annual award established by the Elizabeth City bottling company.

The gift will be used at COA by the liberal arts student for tuition and the purchase of books during the 1982-83 academic year.

Miss Hoffpaur, the daughter of Annie E. Hoffpaur of Rt. 1, Hertford, distinguished herself scholastically while attending PCHS.

She was as member of the French Club for three years, and served as a sophomore marshal for the 1980 graduating class.

During her junior and senior years, she was listed in both "Who's Who Among American High School Students" and the "Society of Distinguished American High School Students."

Her high scholastic standing earned her membership in the Beta Club for two years.

The 1981 Governor's School Nominee was named as a member of the United States Achievement Academy during her senior year.

As a junior, Miss Hoffpaur represented PCHS in a math contest at East Carolina University. This year, she participated in similar competition at Elizabeth City State University.

Boosters meet

The Perquimans County Band Boosters held their first meeting of the year Monday, August 9. Pete Perry, president, covered various business items and announcements.

The band will perform during all football games and compete in several contests this fall.

A car wash and bake sale is planned by the color guard Saturday, August 21 at the One Stop Convenience Store.

Boosters members agreed to participate in the Festival of Skills October 22 and 23 sponsored by the Home Demonstration Club with a booth of various handmade crafts.

Each person was encouraged to begin plans for the fruit sales campaign to begin soon. This fruit will be sold and delivered by band members before Christmas.

Appreciation was expressed to several individuals and businesses for their donations to the band.

This club is open for membership to all persons interested in the Perquimans County High Band. The annual dues are $2 per person per year.

County corn yield contest announced

Bill Jester, Perquimans County Extension Chairman, announced the rules of the 1982 Perquimans County corn yield contest recently.

The purposes of the corn yield contest are:

- to recognize production practices that produce high yields.

- to recognize those producers that are producing the highest yields.

- to encourage producers to adopt practices resulting in higher yields.

- to collect information on the yield potential of the soil types in Perquimans County.

Jester indicated that anyone producing one acre or more of corn in Perquimans County is eligible to enter. A trophy will be awarded to the top three entries at the annual corn banquet.

According to Jester the harvested acreage must be a continuous area with four straight sides and a minimum area of one acre. There must be a minimum of two rows of similarly-produced corn on each side of the harvested area.

At least one member of the Rural Development panel must be present at the harvesting and weighing of the yield.

Anyone interested in entering the contest should contact either Bill Jester or Jeff Copeland at the Perquimans County Extension Service (426-5428), Tony Short at the Soil Conservation Service (426-5545) or Tommy Riddick at the ASCS office (426-5802).

Last year the county corn contest winner was Donald Ray Stallings with about 180 bushels per acre.

Jester indicated that it would facilitate the harvesting and measuring process if the grower would have his plot blocked out.

He said that it would be helpful if a farmer could call several days before he expects to get to the field to be entered in the contest for scheduling purposes.

Daughter receives MA

Karen G. Nuckolls, daughter of Mrs. R.C. Glover of Hertford, was awarded a master's degree from Memphis State University during summer commencement ceremonies Sunday, August 15.

Nuckolls received a master of education degree with a major in special education from MSU's College of Education.

She holds a bachelor's degree from Lambuth College at Jackson, TN.

Dr. Thomas Carpenter, MSU president, conferred approximately 900 bachelor, master and doctoral degrees at the ceremonies held at the Mid-South Coliseum in Memphis.

Speaker for the ceremonies was Virginia Pearce Hudgens, MSU instructor of English and a 1982 recipient of MSU's Distinguished Teaching Service Award. She spoke on "The University Education — the Arch of Experience."
