

Craftsmen lined up for Festival of Skills

Newcomers have been added to the 1982 Festival of Skills sponsored by the Perquimans County Extension Homemakers' Association. That means new and different crafts and gift items will be available for sale and on display at the White's Boarding House, formerly known as White's Tourist Home, in downtown Hertford on October 22 and 23. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday. A simple lunch will be served each day and a country dinner served on Friday evening. You will be hearing more about the menu, tickets, etc. for the country dinner and simple lunch. Plan to attend! Among the newcomers there will be Emily Harrell with a fine line of lady's lingerie — robes, pajamas, slippers, etc. — in pastels and designs and oh, so lacy! Evelyn Ann Smith and mother, Janie Stanton, will have a fine line of handmade baby clothes and garments for dolls. This display will take you back to days when tucks, drawn work, lace and sheer batiste made infant garments so elegant. One of the youngest craftsmen will be Ellen Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Lane. Ellen takes pin cushions. Look for Ellen sharing a booth with Caroline Pratt and Mary White. Lindsey Barber from Elizabeth City will be on hand with his quality woodcraft featuring sconces, clocks, book-ends, recipe and pencil holders and almost any item made out of wood from puzzles to stools. These items make great Christmas gifts! Don't miss Lindsey Barber. Other individuals include Evelyn Harrell and Lela Mae Winslow who crochet, candlewick and quilt. They will have a variety of handmade items. Also, Emma Burke will have macrame, grapevine wreaths, stuffed items, candles and Christmas decorations. Organizations include Bay Branch Extension Homemakers, Snug Harbor Community Church and Perquimans Band Boosters Club. These organizations will offer a variety.

Nurses complete training

Nineteen Practical Nurse Education students at College of the Albemarle recently received their caps and pins during a ceremony which signified the completion of their 12-month training program. They will take the state licensing examination

Catherine H. Brown, Gloria H. Beckler, Carolyn B. Hollowell, Pamela D. Piland, and Mildred F. White; third row: Karen R. Hefferman, Audrey B. Granby, Kay F. White, Cynthia A. Austin, and Roxann Lenard. (COA photo)

We are so pleased to have the great list of talented people to share their crafts and skills with all. Please help welcome all crafts people by attending the second Festival of Skills in downtown Hertford on Friday and Saturday, October 22 and 23. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

For best results, preshrink all fabrics and trims prior to their use in home sewing. This will insure that once they have been combined into the finished garment or project, they will not pucker or shrink after futher laundering, says Dr. Judieth Mock, extension clothing specialist, North Carolina State University.

appropriate disclosure and good mental health. "Extremes in the amount of self-disclosure we allow can be an indication of emotional stability or instability. "We wouldn't expect a stable person — someone we'd never seen before — to approach us on the street and begin to reveal his life story," Anderson said. "On the other hand, if we attempt to strike up a conversation with a stranger by asking his name, and he responds by cowering and refusing to answer, that would be a good example of the other extreme." Researchers who have studied this subject believe that well-adjusted people fall somewhere between the two extremes and self-disclose in a systematic way. Appropriate self-disclosure occurs within the boundaries of a trusting relationship over a long period of time. The two NCSU communication experts see self-disclosure as far more than a barometer for mental health. It is a significant human process, essential to the development of relationships and the cornerstone of strong friendships.
