

Band holds

training

The Perquimans County Marching Band recently held a training clinic. This session involved the entire band with emphasis inspecialized groups during the day working on field shows to be used in upcoming performances and competition. Don and Barbara Griffin led the clinic helping the band with various techniques.

The Color Guard practiced with their new flags made by Miriam Haskett and have proudly performed with them during the football games. The skirts of their uniforms were made by Linda Privott.

Another successful Car Wash/Bake Sale was held Saturday. The proceeds of this event are to be used for trasportation costs to away games and competition. Special appreciation is again expressed for the help in providing the new uniforms and the One Stop Service Station for their co-operation in the Car Wash as well as everyone contributing cars and time.

The Marching Pirates will perform at Friday's football game with Northampton and will be traveling to Manteo to participate in the Seafood Festival Saturday, September 25.

FHAer attends camp

Lori Anne Gard, a ninth grader, at Perquimans High School was among the forth-eight FHA-HERO members participating in the North Carolina FHA-HERO State Project Leadership Workshop. This workshop was held Saturday, September 11, 1982 on the campus of Meredith College.

North Carolina's FHA'ers have selected six projects for 1982-83. They are: National Building Fund, Student Body, Tarheel Connection, Leadership, Families and Future, and Up-Membership.

As District I chairperson for UP-Membership Lori Anne participated in a training session designed to prepare her to train other FHA-HERO members at the local level. She will conduct a workshop at the District I FHA-HERO Rally. This rally is scheduled for October 1982 at Gates County High School.

Gard

Lori Anne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Gard.

Stop wrinkles

If you're not careful, you can heat-set wrinkles in your synthetic fabrics. This can happen during the washer's spin cycle if the wash water is too hot.

But don't get discouraged too soon. Sometimes it is possible to get those wrinkles out.

Wet the garments and rinse them in water with one tablespoon of fabric softener. Tumble dry with other clean clothes for at least ten minutes, but never more than twenty minutes. Overdrying wastes energy and can be hard on the fabric.

As soon as clothes are dry, hang them up. If the wrinkles still remain, you can try a warm or hot water wash, but take the clothes out before the spin cycle. Then tumble dry again.

If neither of these methods work — then try pressing the clothes. But be careful. The iron must be set at the appropriate setting. If it's too hot, it will stick and melt the fabric.

Two compete in Pork Queen Contest

A special treat is in store for visitors to the Chowan County Fair on Tuesday night. Six girl representing five counties will be competing for the Northeast Pork Queen crown at 8:30.

Misses Cheryl Faye Stallings and Donna Patricia Elliott will be representing Perquimans County. They will be observed by judges at a dinner party, during private interviews, and in evening gown competition. They will each present a three minute oral essay during the pageant. The girls will be judged on beauty, communication, knowledge of pork, and their personality.

Miss Stallings is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claxton Stallings of Belvidere and is a student at Gates County High School. Miss Elliott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Elliott of Route 2, Hertford and is attending the College of The Albemarle.

Other contestants are Debra Ann Alons from Hyde County, Debbie Lynn Jordan from Chowan County, Esther Dale Adams from Bertie County and Deborah Kay Suter from Tyrrell County.

The winner of the contest will receive a trophy, crown, and $100 cash award. The second place winner will receive $75 and the third place winner will receive $50.

The event is co-ordinated by the Northeast Pork Council and is sponsored by the Fair Association and the following feed companies: Cargill Nutrena, Wayne, Rich Square Pre-mix, and Ralston Purina.

The oral presentation and evening gown competition will take place at 8:30 on the main stage at the Fair. Be there for an evening of new and different entertainment.
